ANY HOPE OF SPRING PUSH NEARLY GONE

Main Force of German Army Now Made Up of Reserves

NAZIS FLOUNDERING IN FOREST SWAMP

KUIBYSHEV, April 21 (AP).—The Russians reported today that Hitler's once bright hopes for a Spring offensive, by the admission of his own Soviet-captured officers, have all but vanished under the haunting fear of a British-American thrust in the West.

Soviet authorities said their own predictions that the threatened Nazi offensive would come in the Summer instead of the Spring—if it comes at all—had been borne out by statements of a Major Bittner, captive German transport officer.

The Russians said this officer related that the spectre of double trouble—war on two fronts—had seeped into the German High Command itself and that Nazi hopes of big Spring operations were growing dim.

CIVILIANS WILL GET INSURANCE

Finance Minister Announces Plan Now Being Arranged For War Casualties

OTTAWA, April 21 (CP).—Finance Minister Ilsley announced in the House of Commons tonight that provisions for insurance of civilians against injuries arising from the war are being prepared and will be enacted by order in council.

Mr. Ilsley made the announcement during debate on the bill providing for insurance against war damage to property. This bill was laid before the House prior to the Easter recess when its provisions were explained in detail by the minister.

PREPARING SCHEME

He said he anticipated the question of compensation for personal injuries suffered by civilians would be brought up and he assured the House that plans for such protection were being drawn up by the Treasury Board and would be put into effect by order in council.

Some degree of this type of insurance had already been initiated, such as the protection accorded air raid precautions workers.

The War Risk Insurance Bill was given reading and referred to the House Banking and Commerce committee where it will be subject to a careful study, the minister said.

Pierre Laval, French Chief, Now in Paris

LONDON, April 21 (CP).—The Vichy radio said today that Pierre Laval, French Government chief, has arrived in Paris for a series of conferences.

He saw Count Gernand de Brinon, new Government Secretary of State; Marcel Deat, leader of the Collaborationist National Popular party; Admiral Jean Bard, Paris chief of police, and Georges Scapini, French envoy for war prisoners in Germany.

Laval is scheduled to return to Vichy tomorrow, the radio said.

Given Two Years For Manslaughter

WETASKIWIN, Alta., April 21 (CP).—Peter Leinweber, of Calgary, was committed on a charge of manslaughter today in connection with the death of two people in an automobile accident near Ledue, Christmas Day, by an Alberta Supreme Court jury and sentenced to two years at hard labor in penitentiary by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives. The jury deliberated forty-five minutes.

Take Big Toll of Japanese Planes In Pacific Area

MELBOURNE, April 21 (CP).—Airmen of the United Nations have "destroyed or probably destroyed" some sixty-six Japanese planes and damaged about fifty others since April 1 in the air war in the Southwest Pacific area, an authoritative tabulation from Allied communiques showed today. These figures cover action over New Guinea, New Britain, Timor and the recent American dash into the Philippines.

SEES ENVOYS; REVIEWS WAR

President Roosevelt Attends Pacific War Council—Confers With Representatives

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP).—In an unusual series of conferences, which included the fourth meeting of the Pacific War Council, President Roosevelt today reviewed the war situation from the thawing plains of Russia to the far reaches of Australia.

Besides the Pacific Council, composed of representatives of the seven nations battling Japanese aggression, these United Nations' representatives called upon Mr. Roosevelt in almost unbroken procession:

Russian Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff; the Chinese Foreign Minister, Dr. T. V. Soong, accompanied by Lieut.-Gen. Hsiung, chief of a military mission to the United States; Minister Alexander Loudon, of The Netherlands, with Lieutenant-Governor General Hubertus J. Van Mook, of The Netherlands East Indies.

LUNCH WITH PRESIDENT

Between times, Lord Beaverbrook, in charge of British supply activities here, and Harry L. Hopkins, war supply adviser to the President, lunched with the President.

Hopkins also appeared before the War Council and later members described his report on his recent visit to Great Britain as "interesting and encouraging."

What was said at the various conferences was, of course, a military secret of the highest order, but it seemed obvious that the war situation, and especially its industrial production and supply aspects, was given a close scrutiny.

DESTROYER GOES DOWN IN ACTION

Australian Warship Vampire Sunk By Japanese in Bay of Bengal, Premier Announces

MELBOURNE, April 22 (Wednesday) (CP).—The Australian destroyer Vampire has been lost in the Bay of Bengal as a result of enemy action, but most of the crew was saved, Premier John Curtin announced today. The 1,090-ton flotilla leader carried a normal complement of 134 men.

Curtin said six of the crew were killed, one other died of wounds and two were missing and supposed dead.

The Vampire, built in 1917, mounted four four-inch guns and six twenty-one-inch torpedo tubes, and had a speed of thirty-four knots.

In a previous engagement with the Japanese, the Vampire and the destroyer Thanet fought a cruiser and three destroyers off Endau, about ninety-five miles north of Singapore, last January 26, and came out of the conflict without damage or casualties.

Ontario Strikes Ended With Vote To Resume Work

Union Spokesman Asks for Withdrawal of Charges by Department of Justice—Five Kingston Strikers Scheduled to Appear in Court Today—Conference Next Month

(By The Canadian Press)

STRIKES in two Ontario shipyards—at Midland and Kingston—ended last (Tuesday) night when Kingston strikers voted to return to work after Midland workers earlier in the day voted to cancel their walkout.

First word of the settlement came from Midland, where the approximately 400 strikers met and voted to go back to their jobs this (Wednesday) morning. The Kingston strikers, numbering more than 300, who left their jobs in sympathy with the Midland workers, took the return-to-work decision at a meeting last night.

TO REMOVE HOSTILITY

Blair said the meeting "expressed the desire that we might have the co-operation of the Department of Justice in withdrawing all charges laid by them under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act and thus removing all traces of any hostility that may have been interjected into the issue."

Earlier it was announced five of the Kingston strikers are scheduled to appear in court today on charges that neither the men nor Crown

Dances With Princess on Her Birthday

LONDON, April 21 (CP).—Drummerboy Reggie Benstead, who said later "Boy, what a nerve I've got," cut in on a captain of the Grenadier Guards tonight and gained a dance with sixteen-year-old Princess Elizabeth at her birthday ball.

The captain who had the dance on his card stood aside. Private Benstead related, "and there I found myself with the Princess in my arms . . . she was quite talkative, but I couldn't think of a thing to say."

Thousands of Poles From Russia Swell Force in Near East

New Army of 25,000 Joins Comrades to Fight With Allies—Uniforms Supplied by Britain —Women Will Drive Trucks

CAIRO, April 21 (AP).—A new army of many thousands of Poles from Russia has arrived in the Near East to swell the Allied forces in this region. In Russian camps since the collapse of Poland, these soldiers now are clad in uniforms supplied by Britain. They are in rugged health and, as one stalwart put it: "We only want to get back into battle at the side of other Polish units already here to avenge Hitler's rape of our country."

Their commander is Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, who had charge of all Polish forces in Russia.

RELEASED TO FIGHT

Joseph Stalin agreed some months ago with Wladyslaw Sikorski, Premier-War Minister of the Polish Government in London, to let out 25,000 Poles to fight in the Middle East.

There was a long delay, but finally they came and the number is considerably above the figure agreed upon.

In the meantime they had been supplied with British uniforms bearing the word "Poland" on the sleeves.

Accompanying them was a woman's corps garbed also in British battledress with breeches and military boots. They are not combatants but are assigned to jobs of danger and difficulty, such as driving trucks and ambulances at the front.

"All of us men and women have only one war cry and one prayer," said one. "It is: 'Poland will live again!'"

EMERGE WITH COLORS FLYING

Manila Bay Forts Sustain Terrific Pounding by Guns and Bombs

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP).—The American island forts of Manila Bay emerged with colors flying today from terrific pounding by Japanese big guns and dive-bombers. The War Department reported that the "damage inflicted was not great."

Meanwhile, fierce Japanese attacks forced American and Filipino defending forces to abandon two points in Antique Province on the Island of Panay.

These developments were announced in an army communique summarizing the continuing resistance to Japanese invasion in the Philippines.

In a later communique the department said that all but 107 of the National Guard troops who were fighting in Bataan probably are prisoners of the Japanese. Unofficially estimated to total approximately 3,000 men, the guardsmen comprise the 192nd and 194th tank battalions and the 200th Coast Artillery, anti-aircraft.

Three officers and 104 men of the 200th Coast Artillery were evacuated from Bataan and now are on Corregidor, the communique said. This regiment of approximately 1,400 men was composed entirely of New Mexico's troops.

BELIEVE GERMAN PILOT CAPTURED

San Antonio, Texas, Police Holding Man Thought to Have Escaped From Ontario Camp

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 21 (AP).—A man believed to be Peter Krug, twenty-one-year-old German pilot who escaped from an officers' concentration camp at Bowmanville, Ont., last week, was arrested today by a city radio patrolman.

The man was apprehended by special agents of the M-K-T Railway in the yards. He fled from the agents, but was trapped by city police.

The suspect who answered the description of the concentration camp escapee is being held incommunicado by the Federal Bureau of Investigation until fingerprints of the escaped prisoner are received.

CALLS FOR HOLY WAR

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP).—The Prime Minister of Punjab in India "has called for a Holy war against Japan," and pictures of Adolf Hitler and Premier Tojo were burned in Bombay today during anti-Axis demonstrations, the B.B.C. said tonight in a German language broadcast heard by C.B.S.

WAVELL GIVES REASSURANCE

Says India's Air Defences Growing Daily—Danger Less Immediate

NEW DELHI, India, April 21 (CP).—General Sir Archibald Wavell assured the people of India in a broadcast today that "you have on your side four of the toughest and most enduring races of the world—the British, the Americans, the Russians and the Chinese."

The commander-in-chief warned that India's immediate danger is from air attacks, but added that he did not believe the Japanese would be able to bomb Indian cities "on anything approaching the scale of intensity or continuity of the German attacks on Great Britain or our air attacks on Germany."

General Wavell declared India's air defences are growing daily. The danger of land and sea attack is "real" but less immediate, he said, adding:

"India will be defended by a powerful air striking force which will attack enemy ships as they approach and by a land striking force which will concentrate against any threatening point.

"I can assure you with confidence of the quality of the troops who defend India. I can assure you without any hesitation that the ultimate victory against the brutality and aggression of the Axis powers is beyond doubt."

OLD COMRADES ON HIS STAFF

MacArthur Chooses His Chief Assistants—Issues His First Communique

UNITED NATIONS ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 21 (AP).—Gen. Douglas MacArthur selected today a staff headed by his old comrades of the Philippine campaign and formally began his tour of duty as supreme Allied commander of the Southwest Pacific by issuing his first military communique for this entire theatre, a roundup of the Allied position from Luzon south to the Australian sea frontier.

Gen. MacArthur's selections for his staff plainly showed that the plight of the Philippines, no less than that of the conquered East Indies and Australia itself, remained strong in his thoughts and plans.

ON THE STAFF

These were his appointments:

Chief of staff, Maj.-Gen. Richard K. Sutherland, forty-eight.

Deputy chief of staff, Brig.-Gen. Richard J. Marshall, forty-six.

Their chief assistants also are all Americans.

Other members of the new staff include Col. H. F. H. Durant, of the Australian Army; Lt.-Col. J. M. R. Sandberg, of The Netherlands East Indies Army; Lt.-Col. John D. Rogers, of the Australian Army.

In addition, it was explained, members of the staffs of the Australian general, Sir Thomas Blamey, commander of all Allied land forces; Lt.-Gen. George H. Brett, U.S.A., commander of all Allied air forces, and Vice-Admiral Herbert F. Leary, U.S.N., commander of all Allied naval forces, would be available for consultations.

ALLIED LINE IN BURMA HOLDS FIRM; BRITISH FORCE OF 7,000 RELEASED FROM ENCIRCLEMENT

Victory of Oil Centre Permits Main Force to Move Northward — Chinese Still Occupy Yenanyaung—Japanese Lose 500 Men in Fighting—Battle Continuing

NEW DELHI, India, April 21 (AP).—Heartened by the first major Allied victory of the Burma campaign—recapture of the desolated oil centre of Yenanyaung and relief of 7,000 encircled British troops—Chinese and British forces held firmly today to a line running westward from the 3,000-foot heights of Mt. Popa to the broad Irrawaddy River.

A British communique confirmed that Chinese troops under Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, United States Army, had joined British armored forces in an attack which drove the Japanese back southward from Yenanyaung, where British troops destroyed 6,000 oil wells last week to keep them from the hands of the invaders.

MOVE NORTHWARD

As a result, the communique said, the British main forces were enabled to move northward across the Pinchaung River, which starts on the steep slopes of Mt. Popa and plunges quickly down to the Irrawaddy almost at sea level just above Yenanyaung.

The Chinese, who estimated the number of rescued British at 7,000, remained in occupation of Yenanyaung.

While the British communique said no further action had been reported by them since yesterday's attack, a Chinese spokesman in Chungking declared severe fighting still is in progress.

The Chinese said they had killed 500 Japanese and lost only 100 of their own men, although these included a battalion chief.

Reinforced Japanese troops were reported attacking the Chinese in the Sittang River area at Lewi, ten miles southwest of Pyinmana, with artillery shelling extended as far north as Aing, ten miles north of Lewi. The Chinese, however, were giving stubborn battle.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, April 21 (By Cable).—Chinese forces in co-operation with British armored units have successfully attacked the Burmese oil town of Yuangyaung and the Chinese claim its recapture. The Chinese came from a point twenty miles east of the Irrawaddy River and inflicted 500 casualties on the Japanese who had infiltrated into the town and taken it while the British were still defending it to southward.

Strong Burmese units are now fighting with the British, thus offsetting the traitorous fifth columnists' activities to some extent.

On the Sittang River front the enemy is using heavy artillery, armored cars and bombing aircraft to try and dislodge the Chinese from forward positions. Allied aircraft have bombed bases and landing grounds, and have machine-gunned Japanese launches and barges along the coast.

Marshal Petain's relinquishment of the Vichy Government to Laval, says The Times' diplomatic correspondent, has created the greatest bewilderment throughout France as no reasons have been given on Petain's behalf.

The marshal was clearly frightened into surrender by German threats, passed on to him by Laval, that the Italians would be allowed to seize French territory and that the German army would take over the whole country. Laval also terrified Petain by descriptions of impending famine and social revolution, and this completed his collapse.

* * *

A direct attack on the British navy was ruled out at present, but Laval may use troops and ships to recover the great area of Central Africa now adhering to General de Gaulle. The Nazis have gained enormously, for Laval will hold down France for them, thus releasing many hundreds of thousands of men for the Russian front.

The plain truth is, adds The Times, that in future Vichy France will be governed from Paris under direct and unrelaxed German pressure, with Petain isolated at Vichy. The United Nations must face an intensified threat to free French territories ranging from the Gulf of Glinea to the Egyptian frontier.

* * *

Dealing editorially with the impending plebiscite in Canada The Times says the Mackenzie King Government is still convinced compulsion for overseas service is unnecessary.

When the plebiscite was first proposed the Government was attacked with great bitterness from both sides, and accused of shirking the responsibilities of leadership. Results of four recent by-elections, however, seemed to indicate it was the critics, and not the Government, who were out of touch with public opinion.

DENIES REPORT

MOSCOW, April 22 (Wednesday) (AP).—The Soviet news agency Tass today denied a report in the Italian newspaper Gazetta de Populo, that planes which bombed Japanese cities last Saturday had their bases on Soviet territory.

"Tass has been requested to state that this is untrue and obviously a provocation," the Moscow radio said.

JOINT STAFF NOTHING NEW

Share Same Building and Even Eat Together Churchill Discloses

LONDON, April 22 (AP).—Britain already has a joint general staff working so closely together that its members share the same building and eat together, Prime Minister Churchill said in a white paper tonight.

"A joint staff, advocated from time to time in Parliament and the press," it said, "has in fact existed for many years. It has been progressively reorganized and expanded in the light of war experience."

The white paper was issued after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today asked members of Parliament to withhold judgment until they had studied the Government's defence of the existing war planning organization.

A SINGLE UNIT

A general staff of specially selected officers work so closely together, the document said, that they "think and act in terms not of three separate units assisting one another for a common end, but of a single fighting unit animated by the same spirit and close conception of a single task."

Outlining the set-up of the general staff in great detail, the paper disclosed:

1. That linked with the chief of staff committee are joint planning staff and joint intelligence committee, both consisting of officers who work as a team.

2. Although the joint planning staff is concerned primarily with military plans, political, economic and other considerations are taken into account and the Foreign Office has a permanent representative.

3. The task of a joint intelligence sub-committee is to collate and assess all information about the enemy, and particularly to forecast the most likely course of enemy action.

Doesn't Want Slacks Worn In City Hall

LOS ANGELES, April 21 (AP).—Let's keep 'em feminine. That was Mayor Fletcher Bowron's answer today to the petition of twenty-five pretty secretaries of city officials asking permission to wear slacks instead of skirts for the duration.

"Don't let us use the war to undermine those things we like to consider feminine and lady-like," he said.

"I'm not old-fashioned, but I don't like to see masculine women any more than I like to see feminine traits in men."

Slacks are fine for women defence workers, he conceded.

Heavy Bombers From U.S. Being Flown to Britain to Join R.A.F.

All-American Units Expected Soon to Be Attacking Nazi Continent — British Isles to Become "World's Greatest Air Base"

LONDON, April 21 (CP).—Heavy bombers of the United States Air Force, the first of the all-American striking units which will soon fly wing-to-wing with the R.A.F. against the Nazi continent, are being ferried to British operational bases, it was reported reliably tonight.

Any day now, the British people expect to see the red, white and blue star insignia of the United States planes, and air correspondents of the press are saying that the planes will make Britain "the world's greatest air base."

This fruition of plans for joint air action is the most noticeable consequence of the visit here of General George C. Marshall, the United States Chief of Staff. Last Saturday, before he flew home, General Marshall said United States Air Force units soon would be at fields in all parts of Britain and that United States troops in the British Isles would participate in commando raids on Nazi-held European coasts.

FLY THE ATLANTIC

The first United States planes—to be flown and probably serviced by Americans—are understood to be big bombers capable of flying the Atlantic and going into service quickly after mechanical tune-ups

WANTS PEOPLE TO VOTE "YES"

Acting C.C.F. Leader Asks For Full Prosecution Of the War

OTTAWA, April 21 (CP).—No loophole must be left for either the Canadian people or the Parliament they elect to escape from their responsibility to prosecute the war with every resource at their command, M. J. Coldwell, acting C.C.F. House leader, said tonight in an address supporting a "yes" vote in the April 27 manpower plebiscite.

"We are either for our cause or we are against it," said Mr. Coldwell in his speech over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's national network.

MUST DO EVERYTHING

"If we are for it, then we must do everything in our power to further the war effort. We must not leave either ourselves or the Parliament we elect to carry on this war any excuse, any loophole of escape from the responsibility to prosecute this struggle with every resource at our command.

"That is why I, who abhor war; I, and those associated with me, who have denounced the policies which led up to this great struggle, call upon you to go to the polls on Monday next and vote to release not only the Government but the overwhelming majority of Parliament from any pledge or promise, the keeping of which might interfere in any way with our prosecution of this war."

Canadians Set Record On the Rock

GIBRALTAR, April 21 (CP).—Canadians of the Royal Canadian Engineer Tunnelling Company, now in their second year on the "Rock," have set a tunneling record in the underground workings for the new fort's hospital as they help strengthen the defences of this Empire citadel of the Western Mediterranean.

During a seven-day period, one section of sappers pushed an eight-by-eight-foot tunnel 152 feet, breaking the existing engineering record on Gibraltar by 36 per cent.

ELEVATORS RENTED

OTTAWA, April 21 (CP).—Government grain elevators at Vancouver and Saint John, N.B., have been leased to private corporations or individuals, said a return made in the House of Commons today for J. G. Diefenbaker (Conservative, Lake Centre). The elevators at Vancouver yielded rental of $200,418 in 1940 and $197,311 in 1941.

British Boy Scout Heroes Will Arrive In City on Friday

Selected From Many Brave Comrades, Four Youths to Begin Tour of Canada From Victoria—Will Be Entertained by Canadian Club Here

FOUR King's Scouts, whose bravery and distinguished services during repeated Nazi air raids over Great Britain have earned them a trip to Canada, will arrive in the city by boat on Friday afternoon. Here they will be entertained until Saturday afternoon, when they will leave for Vancouver to begin their tour of the Dominion, working eastward.

The boys are Stanley Newton, London; John Bethell, Birkenhead; Hugh Bright, Glasgow, and Roy Davis, Southampton. They are in Canada on the invitation of the Canadian General Council to give Canadian Boy Scouts first-hand information of Old Country Scout war service.

TO BE DINNER GUESTS

On their arrival here the British Scouts will be met by Major H. B. Hunter, Scout commissioner for Victoria district, and Freeman King, district Boy Scouts' secretary. They will be guests of the Canadian Club at a public dinner in the Empress Hotel at 6 p.m., and two hours later will proceed to Scout headquarters, Johnson Street, where they will meet Scout leaders and senior Scouts of Greater Victoria. For the night they will be billeted with city Scouts.

The Scouts will come here from Ottawa, where they have remained for several days' consultation and planning. During a brief visit to Toronto they were featured on a C.B.C. radio broadcast. The plan is that the four Scouts will tour the Dominion, meeting gatherings of Canadian Scouts, at which meetings will be A.R.P. and civilian defence committees, St. John Ambulance, Red Cross workers and school authorities.

TYPIFY BRITISH SPIRIT

Selected by officials at Imperial headquarters, London, in consultation with the Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister to Great Britain, the four Scouts are considered representative of the millions of fine lads who daily are meeting the test of courage and setting a splendid example in England and Scotland.

They themselves have performed repeated acts of heroism during air raids, and all hold the King's Scout badge. For "gallantry at grave personal risk" Troop Leader Bethell recently was awarded the Scout Bronze Cross. Hugh Bright is leader of a Glasgow troop, which is at present under consideration for an award for its work during a blitz.

Roy Davis, who represents Southampton, holds a number of proficiency badges and has a fine record for work during air raids, and in general national service work. Stanley Newton, leader of a London troop, started as a Wolf Cub ten years ago and has worked his way up to his present position. He also holds various proficiency badges.

Lost Shoe in Torpedoing

There were many women and children among the 290 passengers and crewmen aboard a large British passenger ship when it was torpedoed and sunk off the Atlantic coast. One small survivor, who lost a shoe in the excitement, is being fed an orange at Charleston, S.C., where the ship survivors were taken aboard an unnamed United States vessel.

STRIKERS VOTE TO RESUME WORK

Attorney T. J. Ringey would disclose. Summonses were delivered to the five by the Crown attorney, acting on behalf of the Department of Justice. Neither he nor the strikers would give the men's names until they appear in court.

Strikers at both yards had been advised Monday that their action made them liable to prosecution under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act.

THE BEST STEP

The Midland workers were informed yesterday that consideration of their request for higher wages would be given by the National War Labor Board. The workers' committee told the meeting before the return-to-work vote that the "best step to take at this point is to carry on the fight after returning to work." It was announced that a conference of Ontario shipyard employees' representatives would be held in Midland next month.

Labor Minister Mitchell said today in the House of Commons in reference to the strikes that it would be just too bad if the men who go down to the sea in ships, in corvettes, went on strike because a man was demoted.

Mr. Mitchell spoke in reply to two questions by J. W. Noseworthy, (C.C.F., York South). Mr. Noseworthy wanted to know "what is the cause of the dispute" and "what action is being taken to settle it?"

"In the first place," Mr. Mitchell replied, "the strike at Midland was called without any knowledge of the department; it was called because a man was demoted and laid off."

STRIKES ILLEGAL

Mr. Mitchell then told of efforts to settle the strike, and also of the situation at Kingston. In both cases, it was pointed out that the strikes were illegal.

"Now the position adopted by the department," said Mr. Mitchell, "is that the question is no longer one for us to deal with, it is a question for the Department of Justice."

and establishment of base facilities, which will be provided largely ready-made by the British Air Ministry.

To follow by ship will be medium bombers and possibly dive bombers.

At the receiving end of this imminent combined offensive action, the Germans' occupying forces in Northern France, The Netherlands and Belgium were reported by Netherlands sources today to be building up a bicycle army to combat invasion thrusts from the British Isles.

Likewise the Norwegian Telegraph Agency said that several divisions of German troops, including an armored force, had been sent to Norway to guard against possible United Nations invasion.

Had Resided Here Over Forty Years

Miss Cecelia Finson died on Monday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, aged seventy-one years. She was born in Iceland and had lived here for the past fifty years. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Milnes Landing; a brother, Alfred Finson, Vancouver; three nephews, J. V. Johnson, Victoria, Byron P. Johnson, Milnes Landing, and Byron Johnson, New Westminster; and three nieces, Margaret Johnson, Milnes Landing; Mrs. Russell, Vancouver, and Mrs. Evans, Seattle.

Private funeral services will be held in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel this afternoon at 3:30, followed by cremation at Royal Oak. It is requested no flowers be sent.

Vancouver Fair Not to Be Held

VANCOUVER (CP).—There will be no Canada Pacific Exhibition this year.

Official notice of cancellation of the exhibition scheduled to have been held at Hastings Park from August 31 to September 7, is given in a circular to exhibitors and patrons sent out today by the Vancouver Exhibition Association.

The notice says that racing will be held at the park track from July 25 to August 1 and from August 31 to September 7, and that the golf course and Happyland amusement area are still open.

WIFE OF ENVOY DIES IN VICHY

Mrs. William D. Leahy Dies Following an Operation —Ill Several Years

VICHY, Unoccupied France, April 21 (AP).—Mrs. William D. Leahy, wife of the United States Ambassador to France, died here today. She underwent a major operation last week.

Mrs. Leahy, the former Louise Tennent Harrington, had been in ill health for several years. Late in 1940, she traveled from Vichy to Lisbon to spend several weeks in Portugal at the time the couple's only son, William H. Leahy, an officer in the United States Navy, was there.

operations, now is made up of reserves.

On the fighting fronts, meanwhile, the Russians are reported attacking Smolensk, centre of German military power, under cover of an artillery bombardment with the Nazi defenders floundering in swampy forest areas.

The Moscow radio announced that General Zhukov's troops aproaching Smolensk from the northeast repulsed several fierce enemy counter-attacks, killing 1,800 Germans in two days. In one day five Soviet snipers were credited with bagging 106 Nazis.

FASTER TEMPO

(Stockholm advices quoted the Finns as saying the heaviest fighting of the war was in progress there.)

The army newspaper Red Star said: "New reserves to bolster the Red Armies are flowing to the front along roads full of marching companies."

Three Cars in Motor Mishap; No One Is Hurt

Although three cars were involved in a motor car crash last night on East Saanich Road, no one was injured.

A car driven south on East Saanich Road by John James Williams, R.A.F., Patricia Bay, sideswiped a gravel truck driven by George Jones, Sidney, which was proceeding north along the same highway. Then the Williams' car collided with another machine operated by Gilbert Heal, Saanichton. There were three passengers in the Williams' car, but all came through unscathed. The accident occurred at 7:30 o'clock.

REGISTERED MAIL THEFT

WINNIPEG, April 21 (CP).—Winnipeg police are investigating theft of eight bags of registered mail stolen from a Royal Mail truck in downtown Winnipeg last night. Postal authorities said today there could be no report on the value of registered mail stolen until a complete check was made, but possibly it would run into "thousands of dollars."

W. F. Kennedy Meets Hotelmen in Vancouver to Discuss Beer Parlors

Conference between the Liquor Control Board and beer parlor licencees opened yesterday at Vancouver, where W. F. Kennedy, Liquor Control commissioner, went to discuss complaints received by the board that women and men were mingling in licensed premises, contrary to an understanding between the board and the licencees.

Officials of the Liquor Control Board here explained that while the Liquor Control Act does not specifically bar the practice, a working understanding with British Columbia hotelkeepers set out that men's and women's beverage rooms in beer parlors would be kept segregated.

Isolated complaints have reached the board, it was said, that in a few instances this undertaking has not been altogether carried out. Mr. Kennedy indicated that he would take up the matter with the hotelkeepers first, and later continue the discussions with other licencees.

The Liquor Control commissioner crossed to Vancouver on Monday, for negotiations to open yesterday in the Mainland city.

NUMBER OF VOTERS TO BE KNOWN TODAY

Because enumeration in some areas exceeded the 350 names allotted to single polling divisions, the process of tallying Victoria's new Federal voters' list ran into an unexpected delay yesterday, it was announced by Sydney Child, returning officer.

The canvass has been completed, but rearrangement of individual polling divisions has been found necessary in several instances. To do this work the returning officer's staff halted plans for a final tally of registered voters, which will take place today, Mr. Child said.

OIL DRILLING TAKES SPURT

B.C. Government Informed Bore at Commotion Creek Entering Softer Ground

British Columbia oil drilling in the Peace River block has entered a new phase, with soft formations found in the drill cores and the bore already down more than 6,000 feet, Premier John Hart revealed yesterday, after the Government had received a wire from the drilling contractors, Newell & Chandler, all work at Commotion Creek. Drilling would continue, the Premier said.

Amplifying this in a report made to the Cabinet, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Mines, said the bore had reached 6,051 feet now, and was making progress at the rate of forty-three feet a day in soft ground. The nature of the formation was not stated in the advice from the contractors.

"We are going ahead, and will drill the 1,000 feet additional that has already been provided for," Mr. Anscomb said.

Monday's drill run, the Minister of Mines said, was forty-three feet, compared with eight inches when the bore was in hard rock formations earlier in the project. If the soft cores continue, the maximum depth of 6,600 feet may be reached in the near future. More than 400 feet have been drilled since the work resumed this year.

Cavalry Unit Uses Horses and Motors; Sometimes on Foot

Regiment of Mobile, Mechanized Cavalry Guards Sector of North Pacific Coast—Horses Tracked Where Roads Exist

WITH THE U.S. CAVALRY IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST, April 21 (AP).—One of the nation's newest fighting forces, a regiment of extremely mobile, hard-hitting mechanized cavalry, stands guard along a sector of the North Pacific Coast today.

This unit, half horse, half motor, combining the martial color of General J. E. B. Stuart's Civil War troops and the deadly efficiency of modern science, has part of the job of protecting this mountainous and timbered sector from invasion from the Pacific.

In such terrain, the cavalry really begins to function where the mechanized forces are halted by heavy timber and precipitous mountains.

Newspapermen and others were given an opportunity to watch part of this regiment in action over terrain that would be, in case of invasion, a battleground.

FAST MOVERS

In action this new force puts on a far different show than the cavalry of earlier years. An important difference is the approach to battle. It can move long distances—as much as 500 miles in a day, compared with thirty-five to fifty miles, the limit of the older cavalry.

Huge van-like trucks, called portes, carry horses, riders and equipment only slightly slower than the mile-a-minute clip of the jeeps, armored scout reconnaissance cars and motorcycles that make up the rest of the regiment.

PROCEED IN SADDLE

The portes go as far as there are roads. At that point the cargoes are unloaded—from ninety seconds to two minutes—and the mounted troops proceed. The jeeps and other motorized equipment can operate in somewhat open country, without roads, but the horse troops find it comparatively easy going on timbered and precipitous terrain.

Once contact is made with the enemy, the cavalrymen dismount and carry on as infantrymen. The regiment has the same weapons as an infantry regiment—pistols, rifles, machine guns, mortars and light anti-tank artillery.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL

NANAIMO, April 21—A coroner's jury here Tuesday brought in a verdict of accidental death without blame to anyone, after considering the circumstances surrounding the death of James Cecil Williams, Nanoose farmer, who died in hospital of injuries sustained April 14 when struck by a light delivery truck as he walked along the Island Highway near his home. The jury added a rider to the effect that Benjamin Farkas, driver of the truck, did everything possible to avoid the accident.

P.G.E. LOAN IS BEING STUDIED

Premier John Hart May Go East Later in Spring to Settle Arrangements

Premier John Hart may go East later in the Spring in connection with the refunding of part of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway guarantee, he announced yesterday. Provincial proposals in that connection have already been laid in the hands of Toronto financial houses, after a series of talks here.

The Provincial guarantee on the P.G.E., amounting to $20,160,000, will mature on July 15. Part of the amount, it has already been said, will be retired, and the balance refunded in fresh securities on a more favorable basis. Details of the transaction remain to be worked out, Premier Hart intimated.

A vertical line, running roughly north and south in the province, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway may assume greater importance in the light of recent wartime developments in the North. Though watching that situation, the Provincial Government is withholding any comment at the present time, the Premier said.

First A.R.P. Ambulance Now Ready

FOR the first time this week Victorians saw the first of a fleet of four fully-equipped A.R.P. ambulances for which Inspector Arthur H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, has been campaigning for some weeks. Built locally on an imported truck chassis at the direction of an ambulance committee under Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, the ambulance is equipped to carry two stretchers, one below the other, with specially devised locks to hold the stretchers in place on bumpy ground. There is extra headroom for attendants, and the usual ambulance red light and siren are included in the equipment. The ambulance was open for public inspection Monday and Tuesday at the City Hall. Shown in the picture above, after officially inspecting the new ambulance, are, left to right, Inspector A. H. Bishop, Mayor Andrew McGavin, Miss C. Nex and Miss E. MASTER PLAN AT WORK IN WORLD

Dean S. H. Elliott Warns Against Blind Fatalism in Shakespeare Birthday Address

Despite the evil present in the world today there is a moral government at work evidencing a master plan behind present-day confusion, Very Rev. Spencer H. Elliott told a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Kiwanis Club yesterday in an address commemorating the birthday of William Shakespeare, coincident with St. George's Day, April 23.

Drawing from the works of Shakespeare, Dean Elliott pointed out that the great dramatist, in such tragedies as King Lear, placed the doctrine of human responsibility against the blind fatalism of the Greek drama.

War inevitably brought fatalism, and a return to superstitions, he warned, in pointing out that many people were "making a big splash" today in promoting the doctrine that everything was planned beforehand.

Shakespeare, he declared, believed that man had some choice in his destiny, and that the rewards of goodness were to be found in goodness itself, and not in the proverbial happy ending.

Quislings and fifth columnists were nothing new, but were as old as Shakespeare and Henry V, Dean Elliott said in discussing Shakespeare's historical plays, while his comedies revealed human qualities needed for the maintenance of civilian morale in wartime, the simple homely virtues, the ability to forget one's own troubles by recognizing those of others.

A.R.P. Activities

Cedar Hill—A meeting of the Cedar Hill Evacuation Centre took place Monday in St. Luke's Hall. A list of wells in the district was sent to the municipality. Ways and means of supplying the centre with necessary articles were discussed. As these centres are not first-aid posts or clearing stations, but centres where bombed-out people would be taken care of for at least twenty-four hours, considerable supplies are needed and a house-to-house canvass of the district has been undertaken. The next meeting will be held in St. Luke's Hall, Cedar Hill Crossroad, on Monday, May 4, at 2:30 p.m.

District 5A South, Mount Tolmie—A home nursing class will be started in Mount Douglas High School, Cedar Hill Road. All those interested and wishing to register for the class are asked to attend at the school this evening at 8 o'clock.

Sooke—A meeting of all ladies residing in the North Sooke, Sasseenos, Milnes Landing, Sooke and Otter Point areas will be held in the dining-room of Sooke Community Hall on Friday at 8 p.m. The meeting is being called to arrange for emergency supplies for the casualty clearing station and first aid posts in these areas.

Car Is Driven Into Building

A car driven by Douglas George Fillary, R.A.F., Patricia Bay, crashed into a building belonging to Waters' Welding Shop on Fisgard Street last night at 11 o'clock, causing some damage to the structure.

Fillary was operating a car which belonged to the U Drive at Sidney and collided with an auto which was parked on the street in charge of Henry Joe, 1400 Quadra Street, Henry's Service Station. After being asked for his driver's licence by the Chinese, Fillary drove away, and with the Chinese jumping on the car, he took his machine into the building, police said.

TWO READINGS GIVEN BY-LAW

Tax Rate of Thirty-One Mills Is Called For Under Measure

Saanich Municipal Council last night gave first and second reading to a by-law which would set the tax rate for 1942 at thirty-one mills. Under the by-law, which comes up for final reading at the next meeting of the council, a levy of eighteen and a half mills will be made upon taxable lands, and improvements will be taxed at the rate of 45 per cent of their assessed value, for the general purposes of the corporation.

For school purposes, the by-law calls for a levy of twelve and a half mills upon lands, with improvements to be taxed at 45 per cent of their assessed value.

Councillors heartily commended Acting Reeve E. C. Warren's suggestion that Municipal Engineer Hugo Allen survey the good wells in Saanich so as to provide a secondary source of water for the municipality's eight evacuation stations should the waterworks system be put out of action by enemy attack.

WOULD COST $400

Mr. Allen said that after suitable wells had been spotted on a map, 500-gallon water containers would be filled from them, and that the scheme would involve an expenditure of about $400.

"According to the information we receive from the Old Land, people who have undergone bombing are given a sponge bath and cup of tea each to steady their nerves," Mr. Warren explained. "It is essential that water by supplied the evacuation stations."

Under the plan, latrines will be provided to replace the regular facilities should these be rendered inoperative during an attack which disrupts the waterworks system.

HAVE BUILT TRAILER

Mr. Warren, Mr. Allen and Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer, will be in charge of the scheme. Residents of the Ten Mile Point area have made and contributed to the municipality a trailer equipped for fighting fires, and this has been stationed in Ten Mile Point district, Dr. Gayton said. It will be used under the direction of Fire Chief Joseph Law.

Council awarded tenders for the insuring of the municipality's fleet of cars to Johnson & Company, and accepted tenders for the printing of its water and tax bills submitted by Diggon-Hibben, Ltd., and Margison Bros.

A. M. M. Reynard, who offered $175 for a lot on Aldridge Street, will be notified that its sale price is $225. Council accepted J. P. Anderson's offer of $150 for a parcel on Haultain Street, providing that he makes a connection with the sewer service.

CONSIDER REQUESTS

W. J. Allan's request for permission to build a dwelling fronting on Gorge and Dysart Roads, and containing an area of 8,300 square feet, was referred to the building committee for a report.

Council granted Mrs. Mary Hall's application for permission to build a garage twelve feet from the road line in the Mount Douglas Park area, and also authorized F. H. Herbert to build a Summer cottage at Sylvan Beach upon concrete blocks.

Councillor Kenneth Richmond was appointed the corporation's representative on the committee which has been set up to make recommendations leading to the consolidation of local transportation services for the duration of the war.

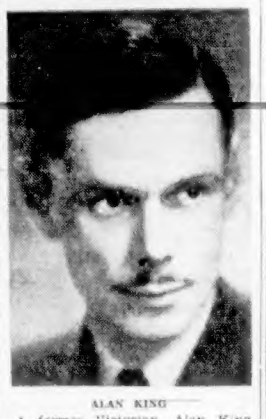

Council referred to Capt. E. D. W. Levien, chief A.R.P. officer for Saanich, a letter from A. H. R. Gowie, secretary of District 6B, Saanich A.R.P., asking how much money must be raised by voluntary subscription to equip first aid posts and how much the municipality was prepared to contribute for this purpose.

As many councillors as possible will attend the luncheon of the Rotary Club in Victoria on Thursday, in response to an invitation from G. Hamilton Harman, and those able to do so will also attend the eighteenth anniversary service, followed by a basket picnic, which St. Stephen's Church, Mount Newton, is holding June 3, at 3 p.m. Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward and Rt. Rev. Bishop H. E. Sexton have indicated that they intend to be present at the service.

ANNUAL ELECTION

Members of Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee will meet in the Royal Oak Inn, at 12:45 o'clock, on the afternoon of April 29, to elect officers and make plans for the upkeep of Greater Victoria beaches and playgrounds.

Radio Script Of Victorian Will Be Used

ALAN KING

A former Victorian, Alan King, actor-author, son of Mr. and Mrs. King, Mount Edward Apartments, Vancouver Street, attains fresh distinction this week with the acceptance by C.B.C. of his radio script, "St. George for England," which will have its world premiere on St. George's Day tomorrow. To be produced from Toronto for national network listeners at 10:30 p.m., E.D.T., it will be heard in Victoria at 7:30 p.m., P.D.T.

Written in collaboration with Gordon Burwash, another young radio actor whose name is well known to C.B.C. audiences, "St. George for England" has been given special front-page publicity in the C.B.C. programme schedule.

Mr. King is well remembered in Victoria by patrons of the Little Theatre, as he frequently appeared in amateur entertainments here before he left for Toronto seven years ago. Since then he has been often heard in radio plays, including "Brothers in Arms," "Flying for Freedom," "The Navy Is Here," and other plays given for the Canadian Theatre of the Air.

A PEOPLE'S LEADERSHIP

Canada surely cannot want it to be said of her that in this war, for the preservation of her way of life and for that freedom with which she is endowed, she gave too little and she gave it too late. That could well be the case if a negative answer is given to next Monday's plebiscite. There is much criticism about lack of leadership at Ottawa. The Government, in effect, on Monday next, is asking the people to give it leadership. Perhaps the position is somewhat paradoxical, but there it is. The Government, although it has the power, will not do certain things unless it is told to do them by the people. That means that, despite whatever attitude the Government may assume in the future, it should be told now at the polls, and with no uncertain voice, that, since this country is fighting for all it has and is, it desires to be in the war to the utmost. It would be pusillanimous not to meet total war with total effort.

Many deprecate the holding of this plebiscite as humiliating to the conscience of the people. Some of those who hold this view have determined not to vote. What they are prone to forget is that it would be definitely more humiliating still should this country go on record as in opposition to waging total war against a relentless and remorseless enemy. Those who abstain from voting will be giving comfort to all who hold the negative viewpoint, and giving comfort as well to the Axis Powers. They may lay the flattering unction to their souls that they are following a principle which would hold the Government responsible for leadership. That, however, would be the poorest of consolations if, as a result of the plebiscite, this country earned the reputation of being a withered and distorted member of the United Nations because it considered the war in which it is engaged to be a limited liability.

Those who do not intend to vote should remember that it is very certain that those who are determined to hold the Government to its pre-election pledges against total war will go to the polls. Non-voting, however it is condoned to salve the consciences of its proponents, is equivalent, no more and no less, to giving passive support to those who would stifle Canada's war effort. Again and again in the course of the war it is the voice of the people that has forced the Government at Ottawa to action. The people, in this respect, will have their greatest opportunity on Monday next. They can give Ottawa a resounding declaration of what they expect in the way of leadership. After all, it is the people, not their Government, who, in the long run, are the guardians of their own fate and their own future. When they have the power to say how that fate and that future should be safeguarded they should never hesitate to exercise it. In voting "Yes" on the plebiscite they are telling their Government that they want everything possible done to safeguard their security and to bring the war to a victorious issue.

CENSORSHIP'S TIGHTENING GRIP

In the tightening of censorship at Ottawa, to cover information that could leak out through the newspapers about war factories and military installations, there is the reason given of not supplying the enemy "with new targets for raids or internal sabotage." There can be no quarrel with the object in view but why any person who would engage in internal sabotage should be left at large is not understandable. Canada has been recreant in its duty in interning enemy aliens. It has left many of such potential saboteurs at large. Its handling of the Japanese problem, for instance, leaves much to be desired and it has been so slow in removing these enemies from the protected area of this province that people wonder why the machinery of the Government for such a purpose should be so cumbersome. As to Germans and Italians they are free to go their ways, and in this Dominion they largely outnumber the Japanese.

The Government could well exercise care in putting any further restrictions on what may and what may not be published in the newspapers. It is going perilously close to infringing on the legitimate freedom of the press and already warning notes to this effect are being heard not only in Canada, but in Great Britain and the United States as well. In this country the censorship has become involved and complicated. There is what is known as a political censorship, which operates from Ottawa, with agents in the different provinces, and there are other censorships affecting the Press—naval, military and that exercised by the Royal Canadian Air Force. The Press again and again finds itself caught in channels of cross purposes. Some event takes place and the newspapers which get wind of it, and ascertain the facts connected with it, are forbidden to publish it by one or other branch of the censorship. Then, the next day, or perhaps a few days afterwards, permission for publication is given and the newspapers which first obtained the information find themselves in the position of printing stories which are second-hand. That is unfair to their readers.

It has been pointed out before that foreign newspapermen visiting Canada have been extended privileges of investigation which previously had been denied to the newspapers of this country. That, of course, is discrimination. It proved a strange commentary on the way censorship operates when last year Canadians read in American newspapers information of which they had hitherto been in ignorance and which they had every right to expect would be published first in their own newspapers. The latest restrictions imposed by the censorship at Ottawa cannot be appraised until it is first known to what extent they will suppress information which the taxpayers of the country have the right to know. It is time for a full dress debate at Ottawa on the subject of censorship and how it operates. There should be far more clear-cut delimitation between the powers exercised by the political authority and those practised by the Services.

IN THE LAP OF GERMANY

M. Pierre Laval, twice Prime Minister of France in pre-war days, is again in power, but since some of the old democratic titles have been abandoned in a country where the men of Vichy have become lackeys of Berlin he is now known as Chief of the Government. The administration of Unoccupied France has been framed on totalitarian lines. It is responsible to no parliament. It is a law unto itself. Yesterday M. Laval told the French people that their choice now lies between a rapprochement with Germany or "seeing our civilization disappear." That ought to be a warning to those he was addressing, for, literally, if not intentionally, he told his hearers that they would be engulfed by Germany if they refused to collaborate to the full with Hitlerism. That then is the policy of the new pro-Nazi Government of Vichy. M. Laval will obey whatever commands he receives from Berlin. That is tantamount to a declaration of war against the United Nations.

M. Laval was outright in his expressions of hate of Great Britain. That is his personal justification for his pro-Axis leanings at this time, but he was always the friend of the Nazi regime and it is conceivable that the unpreparedness of France when war broke out, can be, in part at least, laid on the shoulders of the man who has now been chosen to lead the Government of Vichy. That, at least, because of his present attitude, will be attributed to him in the eyes of what is left of the civilized world. It is futile now to attempt any longer to regard the Government of Unoccupied France as in any sense neutral in the present war. It has not been neutral for a long time past, if it ever was. M. Laval's declarations cannot be construed as otherwise than indicating that his power will be exercised on behalf of the enemies of the United Nations. He has subscribed to Herr Hitler's "New Order" in Europe. As to his attitude towards Great Britain, to find an apt parallel for it, it is only necessary to recall what Lord Macaulay said of Barere, the French revolutionary:

"Ignorant, however, as Barere was, he knew enough of us to hate us; and we persuade ourselves that had he known us better he would have hated us more. The nation which has combined beyond all hope the blessings of liberty with those of order might well be an object of aversion to one who had been false alike to the cause of order and the cause of liberty. . . . We therefore like his invectives much better than anything else that he has written; and dwell on them not merely with complacency, but with a feeling akin to gratitude. . . . The one small service which he could render to England was to hate her; and such as he was may all who hate her be."

CAMPAIGN IN BURMA

The Burma oilfields and installations have been put out of commission by the "scorched earth" policy followed by the British. If wholly occupied by the enemy they will be valueless for some time to come, but meanwhile, as well, they are lost to the United Nations. The output is relatively small but it was an important factor in supplying the needs of China's armies as well as providing fuel for British naval and aerial forces in the Indian Ocean area.

The campaign in Burma is designed for two purposes. One is to enable Japan to march into India; the other to cut off the supply lines whereby munitions are being sent to China. The latter purpose has been achieved in part. The Japanese are now astride of the Burma Road, which means that aid sent by the United Nations to China must go by some other route. The resistance of the British and Chinese in Burma gives evidences of stiffening because the battlefield there can, if sustained, postpone or preclude the day when Japan will attempt an invasion of India from the landward side. That is why, even after setting the oilfields ablaze, the pressure of the enemy is being resisted furiously.

What ability the British have to bring up reinforcements is not known. The Chinese are sending more troops into the field and so are the Japanese, who, for the moment, seem to be concentrating most of their energy on this campaign. The dispatches relating to it do not give a clear picture of what is happening but leave much to the imagination. As always, however, since Japan entered the war, she seems to have the power of employing superior forces. So far as can be foreseen the best relief there could be to the pressure being exercised in Burma would be some great diversion on the part of the United Nations at some other point in the Southwestern Pacific area.

THE SEA IS HIS

The sea is His: He made it;
Black gulf and sunlit shoals
From barrier bright to where the long
Leagues of Atlantic roll;
Small strait and ceaseless ocean
He bade each one to be.
The sea is His: He made it—
And England keeps it free.

By pain and stress and striving
Beyond the nation's ken,
By vigils stern when others slept,
By lives of many men;
Through night of storm, through dawnings
Blacker than midnights be—
This sea that God created
England has kept it free.

Count me the splendid captains
Who sailed with courage high
To chart the perilous ways unknown—
Tell me where these men lie!
To light a path for ships to come
They moored at Dead Men's Quay;
The sea is God's; He made it—
And these men kept it free.

Oh, little land of England,
Oh, mother of hearts too brave;
Men say this trust shall pass from thee
Who guardest Nelson's grave.
Aye, but these braggarts yet shall learn
The sea is God's—and England,
England shall keep it free.

—R. E. Vernede, in The London Standard.

FIRST WALK OF SPRING

Now is the radiant hour.
In the deep wood
We see the first white flower.
Now is the brook awake,
And where in Winter stood
The bare and lonely tree
Now suddenly we see
The first brown buds appear
Along each lifted bough.
The sky grows blue and clear,
And in the silence here
The first, the hidden bird
Repeats his April word.

—Sarah Van Alstyne-Allen, in The New York Herald Tribune.

The sense of honor is of so fine and delicate a nature that it is only to be met with in minds which are naturally noble, or in such as have been cultivated by good examples, or a refined education.—Addison.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

There is one road many a man in Canada will be walking in memory today, and that is the road into Ypres. On April 22, 1915, Canada held the left of the British line in Flanders—held it against poison gas—held it against odds—held it against all comers. For, as General Alderson said: "The Canadians didn't budge." Carried over into the new war has been the "red patch" of the First Canadian Division: "The Oaks," won at Ypres by the Tenth and Sixteenth Battalions, C.E.F.; and, perhaps, a little of the pride of citizen-soldiers who became shock-troops of the line.

* * *

Now, twenty-seven years afterwards, citizen-soldiers from Canada are once more shock-troops of the line. On the shoulders of the same units are "The Oaks." In the hearts of all is the knowledge that under fire these men will never yield, while there is a job of work to be done. Volunteers now, as then, the First Canadian Division once more is waiting for action. Its battles lie ahead of it; but that it will carry the old "red patch" through to a victorious conclusion few will doubt, and least of all those who waited at Ypres on April 22, 1915.

* * *

Memory is a long road. For many, today, the dead-end of the Yser Canal will become real again. They will watch little knots of men gather in a corner; wait for four howitzer shells to burst in the centre of the cobbled streets, and then dash across in safety to the other side. They will see Wellje disappearing, one house at a time, under shellfire. They will run for it, at Mouse Trap Farm. They will see the Very lights go up in a bottle-necked salient by night; and the brick dust hang in a pulverized cloud over Ypres by day. They will see, again, the chlorine gas creep in a greenish-yellow cloud, low over the ground.

* * *

Some will see the German major, his tunic and shirt stripped off his back by shellfire, led blubbering down the St. Julien Road; mortified to find that a handful of men had pushed in the face of the great German Army. Some will see the dark-skinned Turco, gesticulating with a useless French carbine for which he had no ammunition, all smiles and salaams when an equally useless Ross rifle was placed in his hands; watch him trot back up the road down which many of his regiment had bolted. Some will see the rooster, crowing on the top of a dung-heap in the middle of the bombardment, decapitated—rush, as a head-less thing, in crazy circles on the ground. Some will remember the dying, as they twitched in their tattered tartans before Kitchener's Wood; and see, again, stretcher-bearers being shot down in cold blood.

* * *

Fourteen divisions to five; and yet, the five won! Shellfire couldn't take the salient. A three-to-one superiority in man-power couldn't take the salient. Chlorine gas against men without gas masks couldn't take the salient. Plans on paper, and a Winter-long preparation, were not enough against troops who wouldn't budge. So it will be this time. From effort to failure—from failure to desperation—from desperation to mistakes—from mistakes to defeat—that is the only course open to the enemy, be it short or long. And, it is the same enemy, let there be no mistake about that.

* * *

Oh, there is one road many a man in Canada will be traveling today, twenty-seven years after. They will be men in their late forties, their fifties and sixties—but they were men—are now men. Canada owes them a lot; more, I fancy, than she has ever been able to pay. Yet, they are paid. Today, "The Oaks" are waiting again, for what they know is to come. When it comes, the new First Canadian Division, with its battle-red patches, will give such an account of itself that history will be outdone. That is the lesson of Ypres, twenty-seven years after. For free men can never be tamed; and least of all by a slave-master. This time the First Canadian Army will speak for Canada; and the two battalions that won "The Oaks" have become six battalions, with the highest traditions to maintain.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Gun—The Union Gun Club having made arrangements for a portion of the beautifully situated grounds on the Viewfield Farm, will open the season's shoot on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The club's new traps and pigeons not having arrived from the East, Saturday's practice will be with Peoria blackbirds, thrown from three traps, sixteen yards rise. Members of the club will take the Esquimalt tramcar, which will carry them to Sampson's Road, within two minutes' walk from the grounds.

Sidewalk Obstruction—Residents of Pandora Avenue bitterly complain of the manner in which they are treated by a contractor for a brick building in course of construction above Douglas Street. Considerable latitude must be, and is, allowed to contractors, but when they rip up the sidewalk the least that can be expected of them is to see that people are not compelled to climb over piles of brick and lumber in order to pass the place. Someone is neglecting his duty. Other localities as well as the above would bear a little looking after.

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

THE PLEBISCITE

Sir,—Might I again bother you by asking if some great legal mind could unravel this plebiscite paradox, the greatest political muddle achieved in Canadian political history, by a mental acrobat in order to retain power.

It is an incontrovertible fact that that portion of Canada's public who endorsed Mr. King and his administration at the polls, also endorsed his platform which favored an in-between war effort, and no conscription of manpower in particular. This question is obviously one for Liberals alone. Why should the minority parties who are refused any participation in Canada's war effort, and who, furthermore, in many instances, were bitterly opposed to Mr. King's platform, be now called upon to allow Mr. King to do what he personally has not the courage to do; namely, shoulder the responsibility of total war. By the plebiscite Mr. King and his followers can slough their responsibility and the stigma that will accrue thereto if the plebiscite fails. For my part, I consider such a questionnaire a disgrace in any British Commonwealth at this juncture. If Canada's leading citizen and his administration are heart and soul British-minded there would be no question about conscription of everything to win the war.

BANKING

Sir,—I question the accuracy of the last paragraph in the letter by your correspondent, F. Saxton White, that "all money is created, etc., etc.,—by private institutions."

An examination of three wallets showed that the contents, thirty-seven bills, were all issued by the Bank of Canada.

THE BRAVE BALLOT

Sir,—There comes a time in the life of every man and woman when to have the courage of his or her convictions, and to state them to those concerned, constitutes a moral victory, upon which foundation may be built life in its highest sense. There remain a few, I believe, who uphold the theory that Liberalism is synonymous with honor. The plebiscite balloting gives the people of Canada an opportunity to dictate their views to the servants of the people at Ottawa. Our pleas and petitions have been treated like so much confetti and discarded as such. On balloting day our petition and demand will be read and recognized.

Must we any longer subscribe to party politics when "survival" as an honorable alternative is indicated? Why write "yes" or "no" on the ballot on April 27? This ballot becomes a demand by the nation to its representatives. If we write "Mackenzie King resign!" it will become known, even if the ballot is discarded as "spoiled." Many a patriot has been "discarded" whose words are now in the Empire's Treasury. Why not send spoiled ballots to Ottawa? They will at least register our contempt.

FUEL SHORTAGE

Sir,—The latest solacing information on the fuel situation is that the head fuel controller from Ottawa will visit us this Summer and investigate the conditions here. He will stay for a few days at the Empress Hotel and bring in a report which has already been obvious to any child of average intelligence. The people are getting heartily sick of commissions and investigators and would welcome someone with sufficient initiative to plant a bomb under some of those which we already have. It will take action to keep us from being very cold next Winter, and the furnace will need more than reports to keep it burning steadily.

The facts are that while the country is full of wood we have very little to burn. The price tends to keep on mounting, and when the housewife has paid her money in advance she is told that she can stay huddled over her cold stove and hold her breath until the wood is delivered some time next July, if she is lucky. Customers pay an exhorbitant price and are afraid to complain to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for fear that they may be penalized and unable to obtain fuel at any price. It should be an easy matter to fix standards of measurement for both wood and sawdust, but nothing is done and the customer takes what he is given and says nothing.

We are trying to fight a tank war with a Red River cart mentality. If private business cannot supply the needs of the people at a reasonable price, then it has got to stand aside while the wood industry is planned on a co-operative basis. If our Frontiersmen and Guerrillas can organize themselves into an industrial army, and, while keeping their rifles within easy reach, wield a saw and axe in the service of the home population they will perform a very useful function. We also enlist the attention of the committee on rehabilitation as the organization of an industrial army to increase production on the home front would be good training for them. It would also help to keep a lot of us from freezing to death next Winter.

MOUNT TOLMIE SCHOOL CHILDREN

Sir, — Owing to the time which would be involved to go from house to house and notify the people of the Mount Tolmie district (which extends to Jubilee Hospital) of the reply which was received to a recent petition circulated for a school, would you be so kind as to publish the enclosed? This matter is of importance to a large number of people.

Reply to Petition for a School in Mt. Tolmie District

Owing to the closing of the Normal School, the children of Mt. Tolmie District have been deprived of a school, and at a meeting of mothers from the district, a resolution was passed that the ratepayers, and parents of school-age children, be petitioned. This petition was forwarded to the Saanich School Board, and the following reply was received:

"Dear Madam:

"Your letter re—the placing of Model School pupils in an adequate school and the petition of names of the various ratepayers, was read before the Saanich School Board on Wednesday, April 15, 1942.

I have been requested to inform you that the Saanich School Board wish to thank you for your work in compiling this petition, and desire you to know that this problem is under very serious consideration at the present time, and just as soon as the School Board has decided on what action they will take, I will inform you immediately.

D. R. McADAM,
Secretary.

The parents of the district desire to thank the Saanich School Board publicly for its courteous reply, and have published the above letter, so that all concerned be given an opportunity to read same. Thanks are also extended to those who so willingly signed the petition.

THE PLEBISCITE

Sir,—Perhaps there is someone who can tell me why I (or we) should vote "yes" in the coming plebiscite. Mr. King, in his radio address, said we should vote "yes," but failed to tell us why, also admitting that a "yes" vote would not commit the Government to any particular line of action.

Mr. King says he (or they) want to be released from past commitments. Is he of more importance than Mr. Roosevelt, who made the same promise to the United States electors in their last election? Mr. Roosevelt needed no plebiscite to free him from past promises.

Fellow citizens, I may be wrong, but my own opinion is that a "yes" vote means more, much more, than most people suspect. Other countries have been sold out by less. Think it over, read what you are voting for and do not let us be led into something from which we have no escape.

If Mr. King wants conscription for overseas service he has the power now without a plebiscite. Is it possible to vote him something he already has? I should like to know what a "yes" vote will mean, and I have, so far, been unable to find anyone who can tell me. If we vote "yes" they do as they please. If we vote "no" they do as they please. Then why the plebiscite?

THE RESERVE ARMY

Sir,—Colonel Ralston has been quoted as saying in a recent press report that the Reserve Army is the people's army and is being trained primarily for the defence of Canada's shores. In addition he was quoted as having said that he cannot understand, with things as they are, why all men, married or otherwise, who are not eligible for the Active Army, have not offered their services for training so as to be of some use in order to keep the enemy away from their own homes and places of business.

Right here, in Victoria, we have hundreds of businessmen and others who may not measure up to Active Army standards, but most of whom could pass muster in the reserve. What then is the reason? Are these men white livered or just plain scared? Yes, this is plain speaking but it is time someone did a little of it.

To the handful of men that are now in the reserve units goes our gratitude. They do not even pretend to be soldiers in the same sense of the word as the active forces. They are becoming familiar with some of the weapons to be used in case they are needed.

It is time these other chaps, who have homes and dependents, shelved the wornout excuse that they cannot manage to turn out for training twice a week. The war is going to be won by the United Nations or by the Axis nations—there can't be a draw. So far the United Nations are only united in theory. We have a long way to go yet. Situated as we are here every man should belong to some defensive unit and give up some of his pleasure in the evenings until the thing has been settled once and for all.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

From our mail bag: "I suggest you indulge in a few well-chosen remarks on the subject of giving lifts to airmen en route to Patricia Bay. Nightly these young men, and others not so young, wait on Quadra Street for passing motorists to stop and pick them up. These men, some from Eastern Canada, London, Yorkshire, Derbyshire and even Coventry, are as human as the rest of us. I spoke to one at the corner of Quadra Street and Hillside Avenue, and he had been waiting there for more than an hour. He told me how some motorists slow down and practically stop, and when the chaps run out expectantly, the drivers speed away laughing. On the other hand, a number stop to say they are only going a short distance. Another airman told me last Christmas Eve he waited from 11 o'clock until 2:30 o'clock the following morning before obtaining a lift. He said before I stopped some thirty cars passed him up. A large number of civilians in cars are on their way home from picture shows, dances and parties, and their hours are not restricted. Time of the airmen is limited, and they do not want their pay stopped for twenty days" . . . From another reader: "Now men are to have no cuffs on their trousers in order to save material, why all the waste of cloth in those ridiculous coats women wear over their shoulders with empty, flying sleeves? They look as if they had been through a blitz or lost their arms. Would it not be smarter to wear capes?" . . . Tobacconist Martin is slowly getting over his disappointment. During National Hockey League broadcasts he had to work every night. He took it like an old soldier and did not complain to his boss, but anyway it would have been without avail. "You could have borrowed a small portable radio set for the games," Aubrey remarked. "This is a fine time to suggest it," the tobacconist replied on the night of the last game . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, told us installment paying is a condition which makes the months shorter and the years longer.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

It's not extravagant to wear nice stockings if you can get 'em—but to let them develop preventable runs is sheer waste.

Take this tip from the Lux Daily Dippers and dip your stockings in Lux every night, soon as you take them off! Lux keeps stocking threads e-l-a-s-t-i-c so that they stretch under strain instead of popping into runs.

Lux removes the perspiration acid that rots stocking threads, causes holes and runs if left in stockings overnight. Stockings last longer—look lovelier when dipped daily in Lux! So start tonight!

The high-low signal, which demands the continuation of the led suit, is perhaps the most widely used and certainly one of the most valuable devices in bridge. Even so, its proper use requires a certain amount of discretion, as the defenders found out in the following hand.

The bidding

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♥
2 ♠	Pass	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	4 ♥ (final bid)

I hold no brief for the bidding of this hand, but let us pass that over to get to our point about signals.

Against the four heart contract West opened the diamond king. After one look at dummy, East jumped to the conclusion that it would be very nice to have diamonds continued for three rounds because he could over-ruff any trump in dummy except the king. East felt that, even if the trump king were played on the third round of diamonds, it would not be a serious matter. He, East, certainly would take the lead later with the club ace and then would lead through the declarer to what East fondly imagined would be the spade ace in West's hand. In short, East summarily decided that a two trick defeat would be easy and made no provision for a slight miscalculation of honor-placing. West, unaware of East's grand plan, obediently continued with the diamond ace and a third round. Declarer, who could see a high-low as well as anyone, ruffed with dummy's heart king, then drew the adverse trumps in two leads. After that it was all over. The club king was laid down and, when East made his planned spade return, declarer calmly played the spade ace, then discarded his losing spade on dummy's third club.

The East-West recriminations that followed were long and bitter. East said that West's bidding had absolutely guaranteed the spade ace. West retorted (with some justice) that it would have been wiser of East to allow for the spade king in the West hand and to refrain from "echoing" in diamonds, thus asking for a shift (obviously to the spade suit bid by East) before East's ace of clubs was removed.

Argentine Tanker Victoria Damaged by Mine or Torpedo—Is First Casualty

BUENOS AIRES, April 21 (AP).—The Argentine Government announced today that a torpedo or mine had damaged the Argentine tanker Victoria, inflicting the first casualty on this country's neutral merchant marine since the United States entered the war.

The new 12,500-ton Victoria presumably was proceeding with her flag plainly visible and showing lights at night, in accordance with the instructions issued to all Argentine merchantmen.

Argentine authorities several times have emphasized their belief that this is the best procedure to guard their ships against Axis submarine attacks, and also have indicated that Argentine ships would refrain from participating in any Western Hemisphere convoy system.

Earlier the Foreign Ministry had announced that the ship was continuing to New York under difficult conditions, because of serious damage, and that it was believed there was no loss of life.

Authoritative quarters clung to the belief that the ship had struck a mine because, they said, it was unlikely that an Axis submarine would torpedo an Argentine ship in view of this country's neutral policy.

Panamanian Ship Blasted by Nazi Underwater Boat

NORFOLK, Va., April 21 (AP).—Forty-eight crewmen reached shore after their medium-sized cargo ship of Panamanian registry was blasted by two torpedoes from an Axis submarine off the Atlantic Coast early on the morning of April 12, the Fifth Naval District announced today. One man, whose name was not available, was reported missing.

Fourteen of the crew were landed at Morehead City, N.C., and the other thirty-four survivors were brought ashore at another East Coast port, the navy said.

Nelson Davidson, third assistant engineer of Sharon Hill, Pa., told Fifth District Public Relations officers that at the time of the attack "it was pitch dark and we never saw a thing of the submarine. The first explosion was light and the second one much heavier. I didn't want to leave her. She was a beautiful ship."

PLANES FLY TO NOME WITH MEDICAL NEEDS

EDMONTON, April 21 (CP). — Loaded with medical supplies and hospital equipment rushed from the United States, two planes roared north from Edmonton today for Nome, Alaska.

The planes were making the hurried flight with medical supplies needed following destruction Monday by fire of the hospital at Nome. Beyond the fact the hospital was destroyed, nothing further concerning the blaze could be learned here. Whether the flames were confined to the hospital or whether there were loss of life or injuries was not ascertained Tuesday.

SQUADRON HAS GREAT RECORD

Edinburgh Fighter Unit Destroys Large Number of Enemy Planes

Since the outbreak of war the Edinburgh Fighter Squadron of the Royal Air Force, No. 603, has destroyed 147 enemy planes. These victories have been achieved in the course of such diverse duties as combats while acting as escort to bomber sweeps over occupied territory, and convoying patrols.

On one occasion about twenty Messerschmitts were engaged. Two were damaged, another probably destroyed, and a fourth destroyed. The squadron sustained no losses.

From the operational base in Southeast England, the squadron is now "lodging" at a station in Scotland. It is nominally having a rest. "Actually," said a flight lieutenant to an Edinburgh Evening Dispatch representative who visited the squadron the other day, "the rest part of it is very secondary."

From being a Scottish squadron in name and composition, No. 603 has now taken on a cosmopolitan hue. The pilots include Canadians, New Zealanders, an American, and a New Guinean. Although there hav been considerable changes in the flying personnel of the squadron, about 50 per cent of the original members of the ground crew still remain.

Only one pilot of the original 603 as constituted in the beginning of the war is still with the squadron.

Captain Hare attended Oak Bay High School and Victoria College, and is a graduate of the North Pacific Dental College, 1939, and practised in Victoria since attaining the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Doctor of Dental Medicine.

He is Flight Lieut. Douglas, only son of Baillie and Mrs. Douglas, Edinburgh. In his early twenties, "Bill," as he is popularly known among his fellow-officers, has "one destroyed and a number of probables" to his credit. He is a former pupil of George Watson's College and the Edinburgh College of Art.

SAILORS FIRST IN DRAMA HERE

Provincial Archivist Addresses Authors on Early Days of the Theatre

Staged by professional troupes [illegible] earlier by the personnel of His Majesty's warships, the first plays produced in Victoria were offered under a variety of conditions, W. E. Ireland, provincial archivist, told members of the Victoria and Islands' branch of the Canadian Authors' Association last night in the Empress Hotel.

Speaking on "Dramatic Backgrounds in Victoria," Mr. Ireland reconstructed many amusing incidents and traced the precarious fortunes of pioneer troupes. He frequently referred to quaint reviews and advertisements that had appeared in the city's earliest newspapers.

CITY'S FIRST PLAYS

"Amateur productions put on by the various ships of His Majesty's forces which happened to be in port from time to time were the genesis of the drama in Victoria," said Mr. Ireland.

The city's first plays were presented in the old Royal Hotel on Wharf Street, then "graced with the name of the Royal Theatre," Mr. Ireland said. This was one of the greatest difficulties, the absence of a proper theatre, he explained. Other plays were offered in a warehouse. One of these, with proceeds to go to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, attracted "the elite of the colony."

Mr. Ireland spoke of the professional theatrical troupes that came here from time to time. Notable among them was the Chapman family. Originally from England, this troupe had pioneered on the Mississippi in 1830, and then after some years in California, came here to appear in some of the earliest plays.

CALIFORNIA INFLUENCE

The drama in Victoria is unique in this sense, we benefited from ten or fifteen years' development in California.

Mrs. Robin E. Breach, reviewing Bruce Hutchison's new book "The Unknown Country," said "It is one of those rare good books one can pick up and read for joy or harsh information."

Miss Dorothy Crighton read for Miss Eugenie Perry an outline of present markets for manuscripts. Alex Sutherland, president, Mrs. Myrtle E. Lane, Miss Anne Marriott and Rev. J. P. Hicks were other speakers, while Miss Betty Richardson sang, accompanied by Fred Wright.

NEW METHOD

"THE HOARDER"

PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1

People who buy more of anything than they currently need, and merchants who encourage them to do so, are sabotaging the war effort, and are therefore public enemies.

Loyal citizens do not hoard. They buy only for their immediate needs. They cheerfully adjust their standard of living, realizing that their country's needs must come first. They do not try to gain unfair advantages over their neighbours.

Are you a hoarder or a loyal citizen? Are you hampering Canada's war effort by unnecessary buying? Or are you co-operating to the best of your ability to save Canada from such horrors as Hong Kong?

If Canadians do their duty, there will be no more hoarding. Everyone will get a fair share of the goods available. More food can be sent to Great Britain. More raw materials—more manpower—will be available for making guns, tanks, planes and other armaments to back up our armed forces.

In cases where it is advisable for you to buy in advance of your immediate requirements—such as your next season's coal supply—you will be encouraged to do so by direct statement from responsible officials.

Operetta Will Be Repeated This Evening

The Choir, A.Y.P.A. and Sunday School of St. Martin's-in-the-Field, Obed Avenue, presented the operetta "Flowerland" to a large and appreciative audience last evening in the church hall. The clever musical fantasy was produced under the direction of Mrs. F. C. Boam, and the dancing was coached by Mrs. W. Bennison, who also gave an amusing portrayal of a village character. The principals were Joan Bennison, butterfly fairy; Mrs. J. Frew, Miss McStinger; Maryan Levings, who charmed the audience with her several songs, as a poor orphan; Marcia Western, a student; Mrs. Bennison, as Mrs. Treacle; Miss C. Holmes, as Sally; Nora Rushworth, who as the fairy queen, danced very well, and Jean Tuson as the floral fairy. Others taking part were Mrs. Levings, Yvonne Cammidge, Laura Foster, Winnie Gardner, Audrey Grey, Frances Harvey, Marcia Western, May Brown, Gaynor MacDonald, Maxine Musick, Pat Nash, Bernice Osborne, Marjory Passmore, Sheila Rossiter, June Tuson, Shirley Bennison, Sally Craigdallie, Muriel Hartnell, Joan Hemsworth, Evelyn Hemsworth, Pamela Rossiter, Glenda Shepherd and Katherine Smith. The accompanist was Mrs. W. Gilbert; Mrs. Bennison, Mrs. S. Western and Miss Willoughby had charge of the costumes; Mr. G. Burns arranged the scenery, and Mr. E. Merritt, Mr. A. Jackson and Mr. D. Foreman installed the lighting. Thanks were extended to those who had assisted with the alterations to the auditorium. Last night's audience was enthusiastic in its applause and it was decided to give a third performance this evening in the hall. The concerts are in aid of the Red Cross and the church funds.

Strathcona Girls Present Playlets

The pupils of Strathcona Lodge School, Shawnigan Lake, entertained their parents and friends recently when they presented a programme of plays. The first play, a comedy, was followed by a group of four of the little plays of St. Francis, by Laurence Houseman, which included "The Builders," "The Chapter," "Brother Elias" and "Sister Death," dealing with the story of the organization of the Franciscans into a regulated community and the inability of some, including St. Francis himself, to conform to set rules. The plays were well acted and showed careful preparation. In order to avoid the expense of new costumes, the performance of the St. Francis plays was given entirely in black and white. Before the performance Miss M. Gildea, the headmistress, entertained the visitors to tea in the lounge.

Johnston, during the afternoon and evening, and a diving display, with special colored spotlights as a feature, will be held in the evening.

Women in Russia Are Air Pilots

MOSCOW, April 21 (CP).—Women bomber and fighter pilots are playing an important part in Russia's air war against Germany.

"There is no differentiation between the sexes in the Soviet Union," said Valentina Grizodubova, thirty-one-year-old mother, famous throughout Russia as a bomber pilot.

Valentina, attractive and very feminine, with curly dark hair, brown eyes, shapely mouth and dimples, began flying fourteen years ago. Her husband is a pilot, her father was a pilot, and her five-year-old son already has earned the nickname of "Little Falcon."

"I have bombed German communications and troops and I have been attacked in daylight by Nazi fighters, but came through safely, escorted by Soviet fighters," Valentina, who holds the rank of major, told British newspapermen in an interview.

"I am a squadron leader, and I like heavy bombers—the heavier the type and the greater the range, the more I am pleased. I should like to fly one of your big four-engined bombers."

GIRLS FLY HURRICANES

Valentina told how Soviet women flyers are playing a steadily increasing part in the air war. Scores of women are engaged in bomber operations — one forty-five-year-old woman is a navigator—and many more are fighter pilots. Some girls have been trained to fly Hurricanes.

"A friend of mine, Vera Lomako, who shot down one Nazi plane, was flying a month before the birth of her daughter, and very soon afterwards shot down several more planes," Valentina said. "She is twenty-one and has the Order of Lenin."

GOOD PILOTS

Valentina scoffed at a suggestion women may not be as well suited to flying warplanes as men.

"In my experience girls make just as good pilots as men," she said. "You cannot judge by appearances. I know girls so quiet and apparently timid that they blush when spoken to, yet they pilot bombers over Germany without a qualm.

"Some of our girls have flown 1,000 hours. It makes no difference whether the crews are all men, all women or mixed. I find that men have no objection to taking orders from women."

It isn't only in the air that Soviet women are sharing in the fighting. Valentina told of Shchelitinina, a sea captain, of girl tank commanders, radio operators in submarines, and of thousands of women in the Pioneer Corps.

UNSTUMPED

A sailor on leave was being pressed for stories, and at last he told his listeners of an adventure in the icy North.

"It was that cold up there," he said, "that one day I saw some sea birds suspended in mid-air, frozen stiff and unable to fly or fall down."

Said one doubting Thomas, "But what about the law of gravity?"

"That was frozen stiff, too," said the sailor.

C.W.A.C. Girls Leave for East To Take Course

Seven Victoria members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps left the city yesterday afternoon for the C.W.A.C. training school in Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec. Under command of Sgt. Phyllis Tweedale, the party included Volunteers O. M. Barrington-Foote, M. D. K. Roe, P. G. Hogan, M. E. Fowler, A. F. Scovil and C. D. V. Sylvester.

In Vancouver the group will be joined by seventeen members of the Vancouver unit.

The system for the training of the C.W.A.C. members has been recently revised and now all are required to undergo four weeks' training at the Eastern centre. This school is the only one in operation so far for the training of members, officials said in explaining that it had been placed in Eastern Canada because of the concentration of population there.

Plebiscite Important in Establishment of Unity

Bruce Hutchison Tells Women's Canadian Club of Extent of Canada's War Effort—Says Problem of Collective Security Is Baffling

"Canada in 1942 presents to the world a subject of speculation and a series of grave decisions and baffling problems symbolized in the forthcoming plebiscite, which is the most important vote ever held in this country," declared Bruce Hutchison, Victoria newspaperman and author of "Canada, the Unknown Country," in an address to the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel.

"If this plebiscite returns an overwhelming 'yes' the French-Canadians will see that it is useless to struggle against such a verdict, and that to resist such would be to isolate themselves, which would be damaging," he went on. "They must see clearly beyond argument by actual vote that Canada wants unrestricted war."

QUEBEC PROBLEM

Mr. Hutchison went on to say that "we are apt to grow discouraged over the Quebec problem, but fail to realize that it has steadily improved. In the last war less than 20,000 French-Canadians served in the forces, while at the present time only a generation later, more than 75,000 are serving. To succeed there must be a huge majority, for Quebec must see that the nation's mind is made up. Every man and every woman must vote, we are not worthy of our citizenship if we do not," he declared emphatically.

This issue was a reflection of the larger question of permanent unity in the country, which must be achieved "or the country will break up" and might have the effect of causing the English-speaking peoples of the nation to seek annexation by the United States.

It was a cowardly attitude and a "relic of Colonial days," he went on, "that people must lean on someone, first on England and now on the United States. We must face the fact that Canada is an independent nation and has its own contribution to make." People were inclined to blame the Government and to blame each other.

WAR RECORD

Mr. Hutchison pointed out what Canada had done so far in the war. Apart from planes, Canada had sent more war material, until recently, to Great Britain than the United States. He said that Canada was building almost as many merchant ships as Britain, shipping weapons to every front, supplying the Empire with mechanical transport, had the largest machine-gun output in the democracies, was sending weapons to China, tanks to Russia and was rated as the fourth largest armament-producing organization among the United Nations. He recalled the history of the air-training plan, the construction of air fields at a rate which no expert considered possible. He referred to the enormous quantities of food, the gift of a billion dollars to Britain, and added, "when you realize that the whole economic life of the nation has been completely revolutionized, it will be clear that probably no nation of our population at any time in history has produced greater results in a given time."

This was as it should be, Mr. Hutchison said, for Canada was a rich country with great natural resources, but the record was nevertheless not one to be ashamed of. "Yet it is not enough. It should be very much more," he went on.

WAR CABINET

The speaker went on to point out the faults of organization of Government and advocated a war Cabinet composed of men with no departmental duties. Heretofore the schools had done little or nothing to equip men for Government nor to train them in the functions and responsibilities of the citizen of a democracy. Briefly and concisely, Mr. Hutchison traced the development of Canada and its policies. It should have been clear long ago, he said, that the British democracies could not hope to survive in close association except within the framework of something larger, a world system of collective security, some organization like the League of Nations.

EMPIRE EVOLUTION

"It is clear," he said, "that the British Empire is not in decline as many of its enemies and some of its friends imagine. It is in evolution. It always has been since it began, which is the secret of its greatness. If it evolves into a larger world organization, if it is the foundation, as it must be, for a world system of collective security, then it will have contributed more than any other empire in history to human happiness, and this indeed will be its finest hour."

The problem of collective security was baffling, he said in conclusion, the cost was great, but it was infinitely easier and cheaper than continual wars which were the alternative and which would not only destroy the British Commonwealth, but probably civilization itself.

At the conclusion of his address a hearty vote of thanks, expressed by Mrs. H. P. Hodges, M.P.P., was endorsed by the club members and guests. The soloist of the afternoon was Miss Carol Menzies, who sang "A Little Song of Life" and "Green Fields of England." Mr. George Peaker as her accompanist.

Mrs. T. H. Johns, the club president, welcomed the unusually large gathering of members and guests, and announced that plans were progressing satisfactorily for the Victory Fair of Nations to be held at the Crystal Garden on May 5.

Baptist Young People Hold Spring Rally

A successful Spring rally of the Island Baptist Young Peoples' Association was held at the First Baptist Church recently. The Nanaimo delegates were not able to attend due to transportation restrictions. The afternoon programme, presided over by Helen McKinnon, consisted of lively singing, a devotional period under the able leadership of Marion Stevenson, a violin solo by Edith McGill, accompanied by Trudy McGill, and a two-group discussion period led by Sylvia Smith and Roy Brain. The first part of the evening meeting was set aside as a business session, the guest speaker being Cameron Gorrie, the boys' work and young men's secretary of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. The young peoples' groups represented at the rally were those from First Baptist, Emmanuel Baptist and Douglas Street Baptist Church in Victoria.

The secretary of the association, Roy Brain, acted as chairman of the meeting.

Murder on the Avenue

By CAROLYN WELLS

(Copyright, 1942, by Carolyn Wells)

CHAPTER XX

"When you saw Mrs. McCleod, that last time, do you remember what jewelry she was wearing?"

"Why, no; not definitely. Alma always wore lovely things, but never conspicuous ones."

"She had on several bangles, I believe?"

"I think likely. She often wore four or five at a time. You'd think they'd be uncomfortable."

"She didn't mention them, in any way?"

"Speak of them? Oh, no. Why should she?"

"She may have had a new one, and wanted to show it to you."

"Well, she didn't! She was not given to boasting of her wealth."

"Why are you so emphatic about it? It is not strange for ladies to exhibit a new trinket."

"It would be for Alma. I am wondering if there is some special interest for you in that problematical bracelet. Why do you harp on it?"

"You're doing the harping. How did you leave Mrs. McCleod? I mean why."

"Why don't you say what you mean? I left her, because we both heard someone coming in. I had closed the door, and somebody rattled the latch."

"Who was it?"

"I've no idea. Alma whispered, 'Go out the other door,' so I did. We always obey her."

"The two doors are opposite each other?"

"Yes, and as I went out one of them I heard someone come in at the other. I don't know who it was, but maybe Alma took it to be her husband. She may have known his step. We'll never know now."

"And you never saw her again—alive?"

"No. That's all I can tell you, and I'll be glad to get away."

"I can always reach you at your home?"

"If I'm there, and I frequently am. Here's my card."

"One moment, please. Will you tell me if you have any well-founded suspicions of anyone?"

"I have no suspicions, well-founded or not, and if I had I wouldn't tell them! If I knew of any really incriminating fact, I would tell it, but suspicions are the hind hoof of the devil!"

"That is sometimes true. You may go, then, Mr. Haynes, and if you learn of any fact I hope you will tell me."

"If it seems worth while, I will."

Haynes went, and Raynor asked for Martin Delevan, who came in looking debonair and interested.

"Here I am," he said, almost jovially. "I'm sorry for you, though, you have a grave responsibility. Or don't you take it that way?"

"I do, Mr. Delevan, I take it very seriously, and it is a responsibility. Can you help me a little?"

"'Fraid not. I am really an outsider, though I know the crowd fairly well. But I have a soul above sheer frivolity, and these silly dances make me almost ill."

"Yet you attend them."

"I usually have a reason of my own, unconnected with the party."

"And you did on this occasion?"

"Yes."

"Do you mind telling me what it was?"

"No, but it will seem trifling. I came solely because I wanted to find out if I cared for Mrs. McCleod enough to come again."

"Did you find out?"

"I am sorry to say anything except praise of the dead, but I discovered that the lady was not one I'd care to cultivate."

"You are exacting as to your acquaintances?"

"Yes, I am, but I do not care to pursue the subject."

"Nor I, Mr. Delevan, did you notice Mrs. McCleod's jewelry that she was wearing?"

The witness looked astonished. But he answered readily.

"Not especially, except her bangle. She wore several on one arm, and I noticed one of them. It was an antique, and it was a mistake to wear it with the modern ones."

"Was it a valuable piece?"

"As an antique, it was worth two or three hundred dollars. Her diamonds and emeralds were worth much more. But it was a rare specimen, and I admired it."

"Did you tell her so?"

"Yes, she seemed pleased that I liked it."

"Even though you didn't like her?"

"I have not said I did not like her. She was a charming lady and very beautiful. But she was exceedingly ignorant of art in all its forms. This was not really against her, but it set her apart from the kind of people I care to know."

Raynor dismissed the artistic gentleman, feeling sure he had no information of importance.

Presently Colby came to Raynor bringing the report of the autopsy findings.

"Smothered," the sergeant said, abruptly. "Just plain smothered. No heart trouble to speak of, no trace of any sort of poison not even of those that 'leave no trace.' Nothing wrong with any of the organs, no paralysant, just smothered, that's all."

"Meaning an attacker of a desperate kind, or somebody in a rage?"

"Maybe, but do you know, Cap, I sort of favor a woman killer."

"Don't be silly. A woman couldn't be strong enough and determined enough to put it over. You know the victim must have put up a fight as long as she could. Oh well, it isn't a woman's style. They almost invariably give poison."

"Well then, who smothered her?"

"I don't know, Colby. I'm not one of those intellects who find a cigarette stub, and tell the murderer's real name. I just have to grope. But it's dogged as does it, and I'm going to shake the truth out of this bunch of suspects, or—or not."

(To Be Continued)

NOWHERE

The circus and fun fair was visiting a small American town, and one old Negro had taken a fancy to the roundabouts.

Round and round he went, never seeming to tire, until all his money has gone. Then only did he dismount to rejoin his wife, who had been watching him with impatient eyes.

"Well, Ebenezer," she said, "you sure have spent your money and had a good ride. But where you been, Ebenezer, where you been?"

CARRIED TOO FAR

And there was the Indian rope trick performer who was discharged from the navy because every time he climbed the rigging he disappeared.

No washing job is complete without . . .
SUNLIGHT'S
"EXTRA-SOAPINESS"
for the extra dirty parts

CLOTHES get badly soiled in the same difficult places week after week. Pillow cases are dirtiest where sleepy heads have rested . . . shirts at the collar bands and cuffs. Almost everything in the wash has extra soiled parts which require an additional soaping to get them really clean.

Any soap—bar, powder or flakes—will remove the general dirtiness. But much of the grime clings tightly, and only the Sunlight method of washing will remove it. Sunlight has a wonderful "extra-soapiness" which enables you to get right at the extra dirty spots at once. Just apply lightly—scarcely more than a mere touch—and you leave a film of soap right in contact with the dirt. And because it is Sunlight Soap this film is sufficient to loosen the last tiny speck of stubborn grime.

In the rich Sunlight lather every particle of dirt is carried away, yet its action is gentle—safe for the finest materials. It is all good pure soap—and that purity means perfect safety for everything in the weekly wash. It's gentle to your hands, too.

Manager Nicol Is Confident Squad Will Win Tonight

Boss of Dominoes Figures That Victorians Will Eliminate Winnipeg St. Andrews in Straight Games in Western Basketball Series—Club Reported in Fine Condition

WINNIPEG, April 21 (CP).—Dave Nicol, manager of Victoria Dominoes, thrice Dominion men's basketball champions, feels certain that Dominoes will eliminate Winnipeg St. Andrews in the Western final tomorrow night and meet Montreal Ollers in Montreal next Monday in their fifth national series.

"I think we can take them two straight," he said, following a 43-39 victory over the Andies here last night in the opener of a best-of-three affair. If a third game is necessary, it will be played Thursday.

Art and Chuck Chapman, who have played on Victoria championship teams since 1932, are the veterans of the club that is sparked by nineteen-year-old Norm Baker and twenty-five-year-old Jack Mottishaw, forwards flanking Art at centre.

Chuck Chapman, a tower of defence on the guard, explained Dominoes' slow start last night when he said:

"We had difficulty on the narrower and short playing court but figured out a passing system that clicked in the second half."

Dominoes kept in striking distance early in the first game only through their accurate free throw tossing—potting seven in ten tries in the first half that ended 26-21 for the Manitoba perennial champions.

Coach Reg Threlfall said he felt St. Andrews blew the opener when the guards suffered two or three-minute lapses late in the game.

SPORT SHORTS FROM BRITAIN

By ALLAN NICKLESON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, April 21 (CP). — Sport shorts from overseas:

British army hero, James Pomfret, twenty-two-year-old former army boxing champion who had intended to turn professional after the war, wore his artificial arm for the first time at his marriage in London. He recently was mentioned in dispatches for bravery and cleverness after losing his arm while on a solo scouting expedition in Libya.

The Amateur Boxing Association has decreed that boxing in Britain will continue throughout the Summer on playing fields, race courses and in stadia. In peacetime amateur fighting stopped April 30 and reopened October 1. The departure from custom is in keeping with the policy of sports diversion in wartime.

Before a record Rosehill race course crowd, the colt Its Funny won the Australian Jockey Club's St. Leger over a mile and three-quarter course at Sydney. Its Funny, the favorite and owned by James Carr, finished a half length ahead of W. T. Stalley's colt Lambeth. The race was worth £500 to the winner, the prize money having been reduced from £1,500.

Australian Army regulations call for recruits to acquire a knowledge of boxing and football through actual experience because the sports toughen men for active service. The competitions also serve as talent finders. One fight organizer said that although many men had never previously been in a ring, several had beaten experienced fighters.

Commando Stuart Chant, twenty-five-year-old former player with Middlesex Junior Wasps Rugby Football Club, is reported by the Germans to have been taken prisoner during the recent successful raid on St. Nazaire. He played with the Wasps until the outbreak of war, later serving in France as a British army officer, and was evacuated at Dunkerque.

SUN AGAIN IS RACING VICTIM

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 21 (AP).—Harvard Square won Keeneland's $1,500 Calumet Handicap today, and in doing it wrote a couple of question marks beside the name of Sun Again, Calumet Farms' chief reliance for a Kentucky Derby victory.

Sun Again finished second in today's six-furlong feature, although at 114 pounds he carried a six-pound weight advantage.

Harvard Square made the sprint in 1:11 2-5, best of the meeting for the distance, and brought $5.40 for each $2 win ticket in the mutuels. Sun Again's place price was $2.80, and Swing and Sway, third, paid $3.

THIRTY-FOUR ON THE LIST

Eligibles Announced for Running of The King's Plate Event

TORONTO, April 21 (CP).—A field of thirty-four—fourteen geldings, ten fillies and ten colts—was nominated today for the eighty-third renewal of the King's Plate, Canadian racing classic to be run at Woodbine Park here on May 23.

R. S. McLaughlin's Parkwood Stables, of Oshawa, nominated the most entries, four, for the mile-and-a-furlong route that features the opening of Ontario's Spring racing season. The MacDonald Stables, of Toronto, and J. E. Smallman's Medway Stables, of London, have three nominees each.

The light and dark blue silks of H. C. Hatch's Toronto stable, carried to victory in the race last year by Budpath, will be represented by only one horse, Cossack Post, a brown gelding.

W. F. Morrissey, of Toronto, whose Willie the Kid won in 1940, has nominated Ellen Hill, a bay filly.

The early favorite is Ten-to-Ace, sole entry of Harry Giddings, of Oakville. This chestnut colt recently covered a half mile in :49 2-5 when just out of Winter quarters.

REQUESTED IS NEXT CHOICE

Held at 5 to 1 to Win Kentucky Derby Next Month—Alsab Picked

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP).—Signs that the bettors of Ben Whitaker's Requested are weakening on the little fellow's Kentucky Derby chances came today in a couple of developments that were anything but a polite way to treat a hot horse.

While Alsab, all alone as the Derby future-book favorite at 4 to 1, was on a train pulling into Churchill Downs, Requested was shipped to Jamaica for Saturday's Wood Memorial in a surprise move to see if he could show any more than he did in the Chesapeake last Saturday when he faded to third in the stretch.

At the same time, the odds-layers dropped him from co-choice with Alsab to the second slot at 5 to 1, hooked up with Warren Wright's Sun Again.

The new line, placing Alsab on top—in spite of his second-place finish in the Chesapeake—and dropping Requested and Sun Again was announced by the New York commissioner, Frank Shannon. Back of the first three are William Woodward's Apache and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Devil Diver, both unbeaten as three-year-olds, hooked up at 6 to 1. Colonel Ed Bradley's Bless Me, no ball of fire in his 1942 debut, slumped to 8.

With Requested and the Chesapeake winner, R. Sterling Clark's Colchis, both taking a shot at the $25,000-added money, the wood shaped up today as a major Derby test.

What Today Means

TAURUS

If April 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m., from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

No matter what happens on April 22 feel optimistic about the future, for conditions indicate that a change for the better soon will occur. Watch the average person's face closely on this date for his facial expressions probably will reveal his reaction to whatever you are saying to him. Only by being tactful will you be able to get through the day without hurting someone's feelings or arousing his anger. You will demonstrate good judgment if you avoid being overly reticent in expressing opinions or in making explanations when you are called upon to do either, for, apparently, people who are unduly reluctant to express themselves freely are going to arouse an undue amount of suspicion on this date. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whose conquest of someone's heart seems to be an unquestionable fact, will do well to remember that a few ill-chosen words can play havoc with a person's patience and disposition.

If you are a woman and April 22 is your birthday, conserve your energy as much as possible, for you may need plenty of it before the day is over. Worry can upset your digestion and disposition, so school yourself not to do an unnecessary amount of it. You may be inclined to cross bridges that you apparently never are likely to come to. You may have a tendency to develop an extremely suspicious nature, but your common sense should offset it and enable you to have the right proportion of confidence in those around you. With training and application you should be able to make an enviable record and a substantial livelihood as a designer, interior decorator, modiste, teacher, specialty shop operator, restaurant supervisor, or writer. A love for home life should result in your enjoying all its blessings.

The child born on April 22 should not be permitted to view, read, or hear anything that will fill his mind with morbid, melodramatic or unwholesome thouhts, for children born on this date are very impressionable. With the proper mental development and a clear perspective of right and wrong, Taurian youngsters should have no trouble in fulfilling the most cherished hopes of their parents.

If you are a man and April 22 is your natal day, you are capable of doing good work and getting excellent results, especially if you engage in law, medicine, chemistry, agriculture, engineering, dramatic work, politics, or in a commercial career.

SECOND NEWS SECTION

NO. 111—EIGHTY-FOURTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1942

Glancing Over Sport

By JOE DELAHUNTY

FOLLOWING THE DOMINOES

Received the following telegram from Dave Nicol and Bobby Van Horne, manager and trainer of the Victoria Dominoes, respectively, from Winnipeg yesterday: "In the first game of the best-of-three series the Victoria Dominoes, British Columbia basketball champions, defeated the Winnipeg St. Andrews 43-39, at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. Play for most of the game was rough and ready, with one Winnipeg player being banished by the personal foul route in the latter part of the first half. Winnipeg led at halftime by five points after the Dominoes had opened up a 9-0 lead at the end of the first ten minutes. The small floor and strange refereeing seemed to hamper the Dominoes' style of play, but after the rest period the boys adapted themselves to the playing conditions and eventually won the battle going away. Ritchie Nicol, who was playing a grand game, was tossed out of the game on personals in the second half. In this series they are playing the game in halves and not in quarter periods as we do in British Columbia. Highlights of the game was the sensational shooting of Norm Baker and Jack Mottishaw, who boomed home thirty-one points between them. Young Allan Wright, who took Nicol's place when he was ruled off, played a smart game on the defence with Chuck Chapman. Wright held Rosnic, the Winnipeg sharpshooter, scoreless during his stay on the court. About 700 fans were at the game. Top scorer for St. Andrews was Carmichael with ten, while Ches McCance was the inspiration on both the offensive and defensive. We should end this series on Wednesday night, and then head for Montreal to meet the Eastern champions for the Canadian title. The boys are all in fine condition and feel quite confident that they will bring back the crown to Victoria."

ODDS AND ENDS

Latest fuel from the baseball fires comes from Jersey City's opening day ticket sale. Jimmy Powers of The New York News nominates Mayor Frank Hague to succeed Judge Landis as baseball czar, claiming that anyone who can sell 55,000 tickets in Jersey City should be recognized as baseball's greatest promoter . . . Men of the armed services have done so well as full-time figures in Canadian sport that few are the tears shed at the prospect these sportsmen in uniform soon will dominate all athletics in the Dominion. If this is a cloud, it is a cloud that's all lining and the best lining is all silver. Soon a majority of the country's best athletes will be in uniform. Professional ranks will be decimated, if not eliminated altogether. Popular athletes of today will even be more popular at $1.30 a day instead of $50 a week (for good amateurs) or $5,000 a year (for good professionals). Military authorities probably will leave sports government with existing organizations, but it is just as probable that within twelve months Canadian sports will be all-military finals . . . Jack Katan, remember him when he wrestled here at the old Tillicum gymnasium, of Lethbridge, is traveling with Frank Tunney's grappling school (or do matmen travel in schools, like seals) on the Western Ontario circuit. At St. Catharines a couple of weeks ago Katan and Vic Christie, of Los Angeles, took a fall each in the main bout, then by some obscure means managed to throw each other out of the ring and into unconsciousness. Good acting, to say the least . . . Fred Grant, retired printer, is about the only Victorian I know of who picked the Maple Leafs to win the Stanley Cup after they had dropped the first three games to the Red Wings. At that stage most of the Leaf supporters wouldn't even talk hockey, but not Fred, for he was just as confident as ever.

THE HIGHLAND GAMES

Officials have once more decided to stage the annual Victoria Highland Games at Macdonald Park next July, despite the serious war situation. A suggestion was made some months ago that the Games be dropped during the war, but this was met with immediate protests on every side, including many from men overseas. Colonel Ross Napier, president, stated at the last meeting of the association. Notwithstanding the great difficulties to be overcome, the executive has decided that the foundation of the permanent trophies belonging to the association, and certain curtailments, it would be feasible to carry on. It was also pointed out that any surplus was earmarked for the war effort and that, in addition to the peculiarly Scottish features, the Games were the outstanding athletic event of the year and catered particularly to the men in the various services on duty in or near Victoria, as well as local athletes. The fame of the Highland Games has spread during recent years far and wide throughout Canada and the United States and therefore entries have been received from all parts of the Prairies and the Northwest.

MRS. PIERCEY GOLF WINNER

Springs Big Surprise by Defeating Mrs. Jackson at Uplands Links

One of the biggest upsets in local golf circles took place yesterday afternoon in the first rounds of the women's championship of the Uplands Club when Mrs. A. Piercey came through with a neat victory over Mrs. E. Jackson, defending champion and tournament medalist, on the twenty-first green. The winner was never in the lead until she closed out the argument on the third extra hole.

At the nineteenth they both got their fives for a half and the same scores were posted at the twentieth, but at the next hole Mrs. Jackson found a bunker while Mrs. Piercey stayed out of trouble and won the verdict. Mrs. Ken Lawson had little trouble reaching the second round as she whipped Mrs. W. S. Smith, 7 and 6, and Mary Young didn't have to play much golf to turn back Mrs. A. M. Boyd, 9 and 8. Betty Ellis sprang another surprise by downing Mrs. S. B. Horsford, who was a good bet to reach the final, 2 and 1.

Other results follow:

Mrs. Dawson defeated Mrs. Robinson, 4 and 3.

Eileen Pendray defeated Mrs. Shore, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Ley defeated Mrs. Hibberson, 1 up.

Mrs. Fletcher defeated Mrs. Waller, 4 and 2.

Draw for tomorrow:

Championship—
Mrs. Piercey vs. Mrs. Lawson.
Miss Young vs. Miss Ellis.

First Flight—
Mrs. Jackson vs. Mrs. Smith.
Mrs. Boyd vs. Mrs. Horsford.

Second Flight—
Mrs. Dawson vs. Miss Pendray.
Mrs. Ley vs. Mrs. Fletcher.

Third Flight—
Mrs. Robinson vs. Mrs. Shore.
Mrs. Hibberson vs. Mrs. Waller.

Players will arrange their own starting times.

JUVENILE SOCCER MATCHES CARDED

Three important juvenile soccer matches, all cup ties, are carded here this week-end.

First of the fixtures is slated Saturday morning at Royal Athletic Park and will bring together St. Louis College and Royals, under fourteen teams. The clubs met last week in the Association Cup final and played a 2-2 overtime draw. The kick-off is set for 10:30 o'clock, with P. J. Woodley as referee.

Gorge Aces, under fifteen champions in the provincial play-downs last season, will make their bid for the under sixteen laurels on Sunday at Heywood Avenue, when they meet Vancouver at 10 o'clock.

A second game is scheduled at the Heywood Avenue pitch in the afternoon and will bring together St. Louis College and Young Shamrocks in the final for the league championship. The match is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

SOFTBALL MEETING

Annual meeting of the Lower Island Softball Association will be held at the Y.M.C.A. this evening at 8 o'clock. All clubs wishing to compete during the coming season are invited to attend.

ALL SET FOR BALL OPENER

Colorful Ceremonies Planned For Baseball Opening Here on May 9

Plans for the grand opening of the 1942 baseball season were laid at a meeting of senior managers held last night in The Colonist board room. Officials of the Victoria Baseball Association would not divulge the complete arrangements other than to suggest that they will be quite colorful and certainly different from anything presented here in the past.

Official opening of the 1942 pennant race is slated for 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, May 9, when the Eagles, managed this year by George Syrotuck, will open their defence of the Rithet Cup, symbolic of the city championship. The birdmen will cross bats with the Royal Canadian Air Force squad from Patricia Bay and can expect a busy time.

Nightcap attraction of the double programme will bring together Pitzer & Nex and the Victoria Machinery Depot at 6:30 o'clock. The gasmen, always popular with the fans, will again be managed by Bert Nex, veteran local ball player, whose comeback to active participation in senior play surprised many of the supporters.

Delegates attending last night's meeting officially accepted the entries of the Royal Canadian Navy and the Army, boosting the senior circuit to six clubs, the largest here in many seasons.

DISCUSS PLAY-OFFS

After some discussion it was decided to allow four of the six clubs to gain berths in the post-season play-offs for the city championship and possession of the historic Rithet Cup. However, a change was made in the play-downs, the clubs deciding in favor of the Shaughnessy system in which the first and third clubs and the second and fourth clubs will meet in the preliminary play-offs.

The McGavin Cup, usually played for in the preliminary series prior to the start of the regular pennant race, will be elevated to the league championship for the coming season's campaign. The club with the best percentage at the end of the schedule will take the silverware. The Rithet Cup, symbolic of the city championship, will go to the winner of the play-offs.

League fixtures will be played at Royal Athletic Park on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays for the first two weeks, or until such times as plans are completed for the visit here of American and Canadian clubs. Touring teams will also be seen in action at the Caledonia Avenue lot again during 1942.

Inauguration of "ladies' night" was agreed upon by the senior managers, and Monday of each week was set aside for that purpose. Ladies with male escorts will be admitted free of charge on Monday nights.

Dominoes Eliminating Saskatoon

HERE'S two fine action shots of the Victoria Dominoes as they were winning from the Saskatoon R.C.A.F. in the semi-finals of the Western Canada basketball series on the Prairies. The local squad took the measure of the Flyers in straight games by scores of 47-43 and 43-26, and are now playing off with Winnipeg St. Andrews to see which club will meet the Montreal Oilers in the Canadian final. In the top picture, Ritchie Nicol is seen leaping high into the air to get a rebound off the Dominoes' back board. Chuck Chapman is also well off the floor, while Don McBeth is the other Victoria player in the picture. By the way, that chap with No. 7 on his uniform for Saskatoon is none other than Vic Dale, formerly of this city. In the lower photograph, Art Chapman, veteran centre star, has just let one go and the ball is about to fall through the hoop. Norm Baker is waiting in case there's any rebound, but he waited in vain as Art made no mistake this time. Tonight the Dominoes will clash with Winnipeg in the second game of the series, and if victorious will leave immediately for Montreal as they have already won the first picture by a four-point margin.

Portage la Prairie in One-Sided Hockey Win

Trims Oshawa Generals to Capture Memorial Cup and Junior Dominion Honors—Jack McDonald Scores Three Goals in Succession

WINNIPEG, April 21 (CP).—Portage la Prairie Terriers tonight retained for Manitoba the Canadian junior hockey championship when they defeated Oshawa Generals 8-2 before 5,000 to take the best-of-five title series three to one. The Winnipeg Rangers won the championship last year.

After the first period was deadlocked 1-1, the Terriers, with brilliant rushes, held the Generals scoreless in the second, in which Portage took a 3-1 lead, and came back in the final session to clinch the victory.

Terriers won the first two Memorial Cup games, 5-1 and 8-7, but the Generals roared back with a convincing 8-4 victory Saturday night to put them into the hunt.

Portage, who claimed an off-night Saturday, proved it tonight. They were hitting at high speed throughout, pulling away from the checks of the red-shirted Eastern champions and outskating them.

In the thirteenth Western cup victory—two more than the East—the Terriers were sparked by two speedy forward trios.

Jack McDonald, big Terrier winger, and Lin Bend, starry centre, sparked the Manitobans tonight. Each counted three goals, with McDonald marking them up three in a row in the final period. Joe Bell, the flying left wing wizard, returned to top form and was in for one counter, while Wally Stefaniw scored once. Bend tallied the first and last goals for the new champions.

Two former Regina boys, Red Tilson and Ken Smith, kept the Generals in the scoring column. Tilson, on a swift play, tallied in the first period, while Smith beat out Goalie Gordie Bell in the third.

Generals, while not reaching the perfection of their great teams that rolled to Dominion championships in 1939 and 1940, fought back gamely, but failed to beat Goalie Bell, who made dazzling saves in the closing drive.

The speedy Manitobans completely outclassed the best from the East in the clean-fought, wide-open game in which only five minor penalties were called, three of them against Oshawa.

The Portage forward lines—Bend, Bob Love and Bell, and Stefaniw, McDonald and Bill Gooden—were too fast in the second and third periods for the Easterners, who had nothing left in their repertoire to stop the onrushing black and white waves.

Terriers' defence also stood out with such speedsters as Bill Mortimer and Bep Guidolin of Oshawa's rearguard, and Tilson, Smith and Nelson of the forwards seldom given a chance to move close to Gordie Bell.

After the close-checking initial period, Rube Waddell was spectacular in turning aside shots from all angles. He stopped forty-two on-goal pucks in the last forty minutes against twenty-one for Bell at the other end.

Keller's Circuit Drive With Bases Loaded Is Feature

Yankees Celebrate Joe McCarthy's Birthday by Trimming Athletics, 10-4, With Ruffing on the Mound—Are Tied for First Place Now—Cubs, Dodgers and Cardinals Win

(By The Canadian Press)

New York Yankees celebrated Manager Joe McCarthy's fifty-fifth birthday by overpowering Philadelphia Athletics, 10-4, for Charley "Red" Ruffing's second triumph of the season.

The victory advanced the Yankees into a tie for the American League lead while Boston Red Sox were kept idle by the weather.

Charley Keller blasted a home run with the bases loaded in the first inning.

Cleveland Indians bunched four of their seven hits in the fifth inning to score three runs which led to a 4-2 triumph over the St. Louis Browns.

It was the first victory of the season for Al Milnar, expected to be one of the Tribe's mainstays. He kept the Browns' seven hits well scattered.

Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe kept Chicago White Sox from passing second base until the ninth inning and Detroit Tigers converted his six-hit pitching into a 4-2 triumph.

In the evening series, the Tigers handed Johnny Humphries, whose four victories last year were all shutouts, his second defeat of the new American League season.

PIRATES BEAT CUBS

Manager Frankie Frisch gave Pittsburgh Pirates a thorough shaking up and the movement paid a 5-2 dividend victory over Chicago Cubs in the National League.

Rip Sewell, veteran Pittsburgh righthander, limited the Cubs to six hits, one a homer by Lou Stringer in the fourth inning, to win his second straight victory and snap a two-game Pittsburgh losing streak.

The Bucs gathered only eight hits, but two of these were home runs, one by Bob Elliott in the third with a mate on base and the other by Stu Martin in the fifth.

Brooklyn Dodgers mauled Boston Braves 13-2 getting eleven of their nineteen hits and nine runs in the first two innings.

The Cardinals shut out Cincinnati Reds 8-0, as Mort Cooper turned in a masterful three-hit pitching performance. His younger brother, Walker, did the catching.

The only blows off the big righthander were three ineffective singles sprinkled in as many innings by Bert Haas, F. McCormick and Charlie Aleno, the Reds' new third sacker. Eleven of the twelve Card hits were off the veteran Bucky Walters.

FLYERS ARE 2-1 CHOICE

Ottawa Hockey Squad Favored to Win Allan Cup Fixture Tonight

TORONTO, April 21 (CP).—The hockey wiseacres in the famous "bull pen" at Maple Leaf Gardens tonight established Ottawa's formidable R.C.A.F. team as 2-1 favorites to win the Allan Cup here tomorrow night, but that failed to daunt Port Arthur's Bearcats who arrived in Toronto confident they would square the series for Canada's senior hockey title.

Confident after their 3-1 victory over the Flyers in the third game of the series at Montreal on Monday, Hughie O'Leary's Bearcats expressed confidence they could make the series count two-all. Flyers took the first two games.

"I rate the Flyers as a great club," said the quiet-spoken O'Leary. "We will have to play hockey every minute of the way—but I concede my boys at least a fifty-fifty chance of making it two straight on Maple Leaf Gardens ice.

"The ice in Ottawa was a tremendous handicap to us," continued the former defence star of St. Michael's College, Toronto, "but once we got them on the larger ice surface in Montreal it was a different story, eh?"

O'Leary announced the same Bearcat team that lined up against the Flyers in Montreal Monday would be used again tomorrow night.

The Flyers arrived tonight also—on a late train—but their coach, Bill Touhey did not plan to leave Ottawa until tonight.

Interest in tomorrow night's game is high. One Maple Leaf Gardens' official reported several thousand tickets sold and said he would not be surprised by a sell-out.

Ice Cream With Cone Preferred By U.S. Soldiers

MONTREAL, April 22.—American soldiers do like ice cream, and wherever Uncle Sam's servicemen proceed, ice cream, like Mary's lamb, is sure to go. Most of them agree that it tastes better when eaten from a cone. Whether this is a fact or not, isn't known. What is a fact, however, is that 600,000 Canadian ice cream cones passed through here yesterday en route from London, Ontario, to St. John's, Newfoundland, by Canadian National Express.

It is understood that American soldiers requested that a shipment of ice cream cones be sent along and this is, apparently, the first time in forwarding history, according to H. H. Whiteman, Canadian National Express terminal agent here, that such a commodity has been shipped by carload lot.

ANSWER TO LAST PUZZLE

Plane Industry Of U.S. Going to Supply Demands

SEATTLE, April 21 (AP).—Completing his tour of West Coast airplane factories at the Boeing plants here today, William S. Knudsen, production chief for the United States War Department, told interviewers "the United States aircraft industry is tooled up for war. And we are going to win the war. You're darned right, we are."

Asked how many ships and planes the United States can build, compared to Axis powers, General Knudsen responded:

"Now we will supply whatever is demanded."

SAPPER JAMES DUNCAN

TROOPER JAMES CLARKSON

MRS. William Martin, 1221 Yukon Street, has received word that her son, Sapper James Duncan, and her grandson, Trooper James Clarkson, Nanaimo, have arrived safely overseas. Sapper Duncan, twenty-four, is with a Canadian Engineers Reinforcement Unit. Before going overseas he was stationed at Macaulay Point for two years. Trooper Clarkson, nineteen, is serving with the 9th Armored Regiment, British Colfmbia Dragoons. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clarkson, Nanaimo.

MOBILE UNITS RECRUIT HERE

Men and Women R.C.A.F. Applicants May Apply—Medical Tests Given

Operating under a system recently devised to facilitate enlisting in the R.C.A.F. and the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, mobile recruiting units were established at 1013 Government Street to receive applications yesterday.

The mobile units are completely equipped and are provided with medical officers so that examinations and aptitude tests may be taken here. It is believed, officials said, that accepted applicants will be called up without delay.

OPEN EVENINGS

The R.C.A.F. men's unit will be in the city until Saturday night and the office remains open each evening until all applicants are interviewed. F.O. R. Coote is in charge. The women's mobile unit is under Assistant Section Officer K. E. Shuttlewood and will complete its two-day visit tonight.

Besides recruits for aircrew, the the R.C.A.F. requires men for its pre-enlistment schooling plan under which educational requirements are established.

In the women's division recruits are required for clerks, stenographers, cooks, and to perform general duties in canteens, postoffices and control rooms.

WOMAN FINED FOR STRIKING OFFICER

For obstructing Constable Norman Bath in execution of his duty last Sunday, Mrs. Sylvester U. Modeste, an Indian woman, was fined $15 yesterday by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court.

Bath testified he arrested the accused's son for being intoxicated outside 549 Fisgard Street at 12:45 o'clock in the morning, and the woman kicked him on the shins, scratched his face, struck him on the back several times, and knocked off his helmet. Constable Robert Morris corroborated the testimony.

Mrs. Modeste swore she had pleaded with Bath not to arrest her son because she intended to take him home. She claimed somebody kicked her on the shins, tore the veil off her hat, and bruised her right hand when handcuffs were produced. On being cross-examined by Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, the accused admitted striking Constable Bath.

Court of Appeal
Victoria Sittings

The Rex vs. Nellie Anderson appeal occupied the full day yesterday. The main arguments of the counsels concerned proof of the marriage of the respondent to George Anderson, C. L. Harrison submitting it was vital to the issue and that the judge below erred in holding that the husband should have been charged without formal proof of the marriage.

Joseph McKenna contended there was secondary evidence of it and that was sufficient.

Mr. Justice Sloan, presiding, complimented the counsels on the able presentation of their arguments and reserved judgment.

This appeal completed the current sittings and the court adjourned sine die.

A pleasing episode occurred during the afternoon sitting when Justin Gilbert, veteran court reporter, was called before the bench and tribute paid him for his long and faithful service.

"On this our last day of term," said Mr. Justice Sloan, presiding, "we consider it proper to note that Mr. Gilbert, the official court reporter, is retiring after fifty years' service.

"He began his duties under Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie and has seen many changes in our judiciary since that time."

"I speak on behalf of the court when I record that Mr. Gilbert has given true and faithful service over the many years.

Sipprell, pastor of Fairfield United Church, left last night for New Westminster to conduct the funeral of James Sipprell, a distant cousin and an old-timer of British Columbia. James Sipprell was one of the pioneers of the Yukon and spent most of his life in New Westminster, where he had been living with his daughter, Mrs. George Mann.

Expressed Regret—In a letter received at the City Hall yesterday, G. E. Huff, commanding officer of the civilian corps of fire fighters for service in the United Kingdom, expressed regret that the City Council would only grant leave of absence to firemen who intended to join the armed forces. He pointed out two members of the fire department here wished to join the corps, and if permission were granted they would gain valuable experience.

FLOWER SHOW AIDS HOSPITAL

Victoria Horticultural Society's Spring Display to Be Held at Crystal Garden

Proceeds from the forthcoming Spring flower show arranged by the Victoria Horticultural Society will be devoted to the Great Ormond Street Children's Hospital, London.

The show will be held at the Crystal Garden Friday and Saturday, April 24 and 25, and, as Spring flowers are now at their best, the display should be one of outstanding beauty. All varieties will be displayed, either in the competitive classes or in the trade exhibits, and among many other novelties to be shown in the Alpine section will be a miniature cedar tree ten years old and, only five inches high.

Mrs. J. A. Hibberson, Lakeview Gardens and Layritz Nurseries are among the growers who have entered noteworthy displays, and a feature of the show will be the picture arranged with flowers by Mrs. Fred Robertson.

The display will open Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will continue until 9 o'clock Saturday evening, when it will conclude with an auction of the flowers on show. Alderman D. D. McTavish, 28 Douglas Street, who is secretary of the Victoria Horticultural Society, will be pleased to receive entries for the Spring flower show and supply information upon it to anyone interested.

CONTROL OF FIRE BOMBS IS SHOWN

Principals of seventeen city schools, Municipal School Inspector H. L. Campbell, members of the city police force and other citizens were shown how to handle blazing incendiary bombs and bonfires yesterday by members of the fire department.

At a demonstration in Market Square, on Fisgard Street behind the fire hall, firemen displayed the approved methods of combatting an incendiary bomb with stirrup pumps or ordinary garden hose. A large-sized bonfire was built and quickly brought under control by firemen using a garden hose. Deputy Fire Chief R. Taylor and Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, spoke on fire-fighting methods and A.R.P. requirements. Later, the school principals inspected the central control room in the basement of the police station.

Inspector Bishop said that 5,000 pamphlets on A.R.P. requirements will be distributed to as many city homes and businesses as possible in the near future.

Those who would conquer the world must have enthusiasm and move quickly.

Stocks Move to Higher Marks in New York Mart

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP).—Stocks continued to reach for higher levels today under slightly improved buying prompted by the market's turn after reaching nine-year lows last Friday.

The recovery swing was interrupted at intervals by heaviness of American Telephone, Dupont and Allied Chemical. A late upturn in the rails helped to impart closing firmness, although industrials generally finished a little under the rest.

Recording its third successive rise the Associated Press sixty-stock composite was up .2 of a point at the close. Transactions totaled 270,250 shares compared with 240,000 yesterday.

Stocks ending with modest gains included General Motors, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, Douglas, United Aircraft, Curtiss-Wright, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville and Eastman Kodak. Santa Fe led the carriers with a rise of a point. Fractionally higher prices were paid for Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Chesapeake & Ohio and Northern Pacific.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Dow Jones averages closed as follows:

Thirty industrials 97.50, up .25.

COMEDY STAR IS CIRCUS FEATURE

Plans for Annual Y.M.C.A. Feature Are Well Under Way—Seating Accommodation Limited

Patsy Britten, talented Seattle girl, who has appeared in "Our Gang" motion picture comedies, will be featured in this year's Y.M.C.A. Circus to be held May 1 and 2 at the Willows Sports Centre, members of the circus committee announced yesterday. Progress reports on the circus were presented at a meeting Monday night, with J. A. Heritage as chairman.

More than 300 performers will be seen in the show, and music will be provided by the combined bands of the three services. Norval Peterson will be the ring-leader.

Intricate patterns by the Junior Leader Corps, many other acts and novelty numbers, including clown acts under the direction of Jim Taylor, will be featured. "The Barber Shop" and the "Jailhouse Comedy" will be highlighted by the clown troupe.

Due to the fact that seating accommodation will be limited this year, special arrangements are being made and officials request that patrons get their seating accommodation marked on a printed seating plan at the Y.M.C.A. Thirty members of the So-Ed and Y.M.C.A. Swimming Clubs will be at the Sports Centre to direct patrons to their seats. Plans for the ticket sale are well under way, H. B. Witter said.
